

A THOUSAND years of representative institutions have left their mark on British character which even industrial conflict could not efface. When it became evident that a general strike means revolution or nothing, British labor leaders gave it up. And we may be sure that in our time they will never undertake it again. So much, at least, the futile gesture has gained. Fortunately, the end came before the bitterness began. Both sides have conducted themselves like good sports, and can now go on to the next steps in decency and self-respect. The soundest-rooted national character in the world has once more vindicated itself.

THE general strike against the government and people of England being ended, the original industrial problem of coal recurs. It is a curious paradox that A. J. Cook, leader of the legitimate miners' strike, is personally a revolutionist, more interested in overthrowing the capitalistic system than in getting good wages for his men, while J. H. Thomas, head of the railway men and the figure in the revolutionary general strike, is himself a constructive laborite, hostile to revolution. Thomas has led his forces back to the sanity from which he would prefer them never have departed. Cook, as a theorist, may be an obstruction to settling the coal end of the strike. But his men have a real grievance and a real cause, and their rights must be safeguarded no matter who else is hurt.

IN BRITAIN, as in America, coal mining is economically the least modern and the worst-organized industry—the British much worse than the American. We had a strike in America last winter, which our conservatives insisted on seeing stubbornly through until it wore itself out. The British, perhaps fortunately, dare not do that. They must reorganize the industry, promptly and constructively, and they must consider the interests of the workmen first, of the public next, and of the owners last. If the only practical solution is one which our business theorists would call "Socialistic," the Conservative government, in England, will not hesitate to adopt it. The prospects are good, not merely of a temporary makeshift, by compromise or victory, but of the beginning of a constructive solution.

THE recently exposed Kaiserist "putsch" conspiracy in Germany was probably genuine enough as genuine as the Bolshevik revolutionary conspiracies which we chronically unearth in America. They are actual conspiracies, by real men—and they are completely unimportant. The best remedy for them is a soap-box, from which one of the conspirators may address the other two. The same thing, from the top instead of the bottom of society, means little more in Germany. Junkerism forgets nothing, not even the delusions which the war disproved, and learns nothing, not even its own present hopelessness and futility. So it plots and conspires—and a few plotters squelch it. Nobody is scared.

THERE are the same elements in Germany now that there were before the war—but with very different apportionment of power. When, before and during the war, we talked about what "Germany" thought, or plotted, or did, we were not talking about the whole German people, but merely about that relatively small group which had usurped control of all the rest. We were right to the extent that whoever could act for Germany was before the war—and with very different apportionment of power. When, before and during the war, we talked about what "Germany" thought, or plotted, or did, we were not talking about the whole German people, but merely about that relatively small group which had usurped control of all the rest. We were right to the extent that whoever could act for Germany was before the war—and with very different apportionment of power.

NOW the same elements persist, changed only in their proportions, and in their powers. But that change constitutes the whole situation. Junkerism continues, stupid, and stubborn as ever. But Junkerdom is no longer Germany. It is a noisy minority in the Reichstag; it sometimes scares public men into aping buncombe, to placate it; it even undergrounds, plots revolution. But it is powerless for great harm, and the police suppress its small disturbances.

THE hit-run driver who injured, and might easily have killed Lieutenant-Governor C. C. Young, explained that he had taken a few drinks to relieve a pain caused by a gnaw in his eye. It is a poor cure for gnats. But if you must take it, for the gnats, don't drive a car until day after tomorrow. And don't attribute it to hexyl-resorcinol or tachycardia. Booze is booze, and when you mix it with gasoline, in a high-powered car, it is only luck whether you kill yourself or somebody else.

In this instance, the whole state will rejoice that the hit-runner was lucky. It was his luck to escape killing by the Lieutenant-governor, who, whether you vote for him for governor or not, will be universally recognized as a man whom California could not well have spared—an experienced, able, patriotic, public-spirited servant of the people.

FLAMES RAGE IN NORTH WOODS

Motorist Charged with Manslaughter

DEATH AUTO DRIVER HELD FOR KILLING

Henry J. Kots, Long Beach, Must Appear Before Morrison for Trial May 25

County Authorities Act in Connection with Fatal Car Crash in Santa Ana

A COMPLAINT charging manslaughter, in connection with the death of John Henry McCoy, 51, watch repairman, of Brea, who died as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident at Seventeenth street and Broadway, Friday afternoon, was filed against Henry J. Kots, 1920 East Fourth street, Long Beach, yesterday afternoon.

Kots was the driver of the machine which is alleged to have collided with a car occupied by McCoy.

The action against Kots was taken by the district attorney's office, in spite of the fact that a coroner's jury, in an inquest over the body, at Brea, earlier yesterday afternoon, returned a verdict of accidental death.

Peru Willing For Chile To Have Arica

SANTIAGO, Chile, May 18.—According to authoritative sources, Secretary of State Kellogg has received Peru's consent for a division of the Tacna-Arica territories with Chile. Chile would receive the province and Arica by the plan. If Chile consents, it will mark the approaching end of the Tacna-Arica dispute, which has kept South America unsettled for more than 30 years.

POLAR FLYER IS REWARDED WITH OMELET

Favorite Dish Prepared For Amundsen by Nome Woman on Old Promise

WELL WORTH EFFORT

Wonderful Meal Awaiting Him, Topic of Explorer On Leaving World's Top

(By United Press)

NOME, May 18.—Like all experienced travelers, Roald Amundsen has a soft spot for favorite restaurants and favorite dishes.

The explorer likes Spanish omelets; furthermore, he prefers the kind prepared by Mrs. Marie Nibbling. Upon arising yesterday morning, Amundsen and his party were told that a reception committee had planned a breakfast party at a certain restaurant.

"No, thank you," he said. "But can you tell me where I can find Mrs. Nibbling, who conducts a restaurant?"

Upon inquiry, Amundsen explained he had mistaken of "her wonderful Spanish omelets" when he was in Nome with the Maud on a previous trip.

It happened that Mrs. Nibbling's establishment was closed for alterations. Amundsen took the matter up personally.

Recalls Old Promise

"Mrs. Nibbling," he said, "do you remember that you promised me a Spanish omelet if I reached the pole?"

She remembered and consented to furnish meals to the entire Amundsen party.

The explorer later commented that the omelet was well worth the trip over the pole, saying he had dinner with kings and queens, but never enjoyed such perfect omelets.

Lincoln Ellsworth revealed that the principal topic of conversation after leaving Kings Bay was the wonderful omelet he had had upon arrival in Nome. Ellsworth ordered ham and eggs—American variety.

No Land at Pole

Statements that no land whatever was seen by the Amundsen-Ellsworth-Nobile Polar expedition in its trip over the north pole and the unexplored region, were reiterated and amplified today by Lincoln Ellsworth and other members of the expedition, as they rested at Nome and told more of the Norge's historic trip.

The expedition passed over the pole flying at an altitude of about 600 feet, it was revealed.

Had there been land, Ellsworth and the others agreed, they would have seen it. The low altitude, Captain Oscar Wisting and Lt. Oswald Omdahl, officers of the expedition, confirmed Ellsworth's statement that no land was seen.

Denies Seeing Islands

Ellsworth denied with emphasis having made statements attributed to him that "rocky islands" were sighted in the polar regions.

"We were flying low," Ellsworth said, "at about 600 feet elevation and we missed the pole, and if there had been any land there we would have seen it."

"However, we saw nothing but ice and patches of open water."

Byrd to Start For U. S. On May 20

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Commander Byrd, who recently flew to the north pole from Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, cabled from there today to Secretary of the Navy Willbur that he is leaving for the United States on May 20.

SLEUTHS PUT ON GUARD AT STATE POLLS

Women Also Are at Voting Places in Pennsylvania To Watch Against Fraud

TWO ISSUES INVOLVED

Dry Law Modification, Approval Coolidge Administration Are Questions

(By United Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 18.—Guarded by women and special detectives, Pennsylvania polls were thrown open at 7 a.m. today, to receive the verdict of the electorate on beer and light wines and the national Coolidge administration.

Calm mid-day skies indicated that perhaps 1,400,000 votes—as many as were cast in this state in the last presidential election—would be dropped into the ballot boxes as a result of the campaign in which millions were spent.

Candidates Hire Sleuths

The women and detectives were selected at the expense of George Wharton Pepper, administration Republican, and William S. Vare, who, and Gov. Gifford Pinchot, dryest of the dries, to see that no more votes are counted than cast, particularly in Philadelphia, which citizens here say has a disputed reputation in that respect.

The three are meeting for the Republican senatorial nomination in what newspapers this morning warned the voters was "the greatest political battle in the history of the Keystone state," which has seen many political battles during and before Boies Penrose days.

Promises Dry Modification

Vare, in a spectacular final speech by radio last night, promised the voters that, if they endorsed his beer ticket, the Republican party could do nothing else but vote modification of the Volstead act in 1928.

Pepper does not agree with him, contending that the issue is suppression of Coolidge, while Pinchot says Pepper is dodging the beer issue while he himself is the only dry in the race.

Plot to Steal Vanderbilt Girl Reported

NEW YORK, May 18.—Reports that a plot had been discovered to kidnap 2-year-old Gloria Vanderbilt, daughter of the late Reginald Vanderbilt, and Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, were circulated here today. The child is heir to $2,500,000 of her father's estate. The reports were said to have been based on statements of her governess, Mrs. Vanderbilt, however, denied the reports. She said she is sailing with Gloria for Europe on Saturday.

MANY TOWNS PERILED BY FOREST FIRE

Uncontrolled Blaze Cuts Way on Dozen Fronts in Minnesota Timber Area

ALONG LAKE SUPERIOR

Numerous Outbreaks Also Occur in Manitoba; Sea-planes Used by Fighters

(By United Press)

DULUTH, Minn., May 18.—The north woods of Minnesota were dark today with the haze of countless forest fires, some of which threatened destruction to a number of towns.

No rain was promised, and the dry, inflammable brush and timber threatened to continue to flame along a dozen fronts. A number of settlements were in the direct path of the fires.

Along the shores of Lake Superior were burning the most serious fires. One of them has attacked the town of Cramer on a three-mile front, burning the Cramer town hall and other buildings.

FIRES RAGE IN EASTERN MANITOBA.

WINNIPEG, Man., May 18.—Forest fire fighters have been kept on the jump in the various districts in eastern Manitoba in the last few days.

There are no less than 47 outbreaks in the Lac du Bonnet area alone.

Seaplanes were in the air the greater part of the day, carrying fire-fighting crews from one point to another, where the smoke and flames of an incipient fire were observed. Canoes also were pressed into service when short cuts across water could be taken.

Rain today relieved conditions.

MAKES BAIL OF $2500

Kots was in the district attorney's office yesterday afternoon, when he made bail for $2500 for his appearance in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court, at 10 a. m., May 25, at which time his examining trial will be held.

McCoy died in the Santa Ana Valley hospital, Friday night, of a fractured skull, received when his car collided with a car said to have been driven by Kots.

The complaint against Kots alleges that he violated the state law in approaching the intersection at a great rate of speed than 15 miles an hour, which, it is said, is the speed limit at such intersection.

Funeral services for McCoy were held this afternoon from the chapel of Hilgenfeld-Rollins, Brea.

The Rev. John J. Bell of the Brea Baptist church, preached the funeral sermon and the Masonic order, of which Mr. McCoy had long been a member, took charge at the grave. Interment was made in Loma Vista. The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ollie McCoy; one daughter, Mrs. Thelma McLucas; two brothers, one residing in Los Angeles and one in Oklahoma; two sisters in Oklahoma and one in California. Mr. McCoy had been a resident of Brea but a short time, coming here about six months ago to enter the employ of A. W. Pettit & Son jewelers, as a watchmaker and repair man at which place he remained until about three weeks ago.

GAS CHAMBER PREPARED FOR 2 EXECUTIONS

(By United Press)

CARSON CITY, Nev., May 18.—Officials today went about the task of making sure the little steel gas cell at the state prison here is all-right, as John Randolph and Stanko Jukich waited for their last chance for life Thursday, and the execution day 24 hours beyond.

The board of pardons will hear the men's final plea Thursday. It is considered improbable that action favorable to the slayers will result. If not, they will die Friday in Nevada's lethal gas chamber.

Randolph, drunk, beat his mother to death because she refused him money. Jukich killed his 16-year-old sweetheart because she would not marry him.

Friday's executions will be the second time Nevada has made use of lethal gas. A Chinaman died three years ago in the same manner. Murderers since then have drawn life sentences, many Nevadans deploring the gas method of execution.

The death chamber sits alone in the center of a courtyard. On one side is a glass panel, through which official spectators witness the penalty enacted.

Within, Randolph and Jukich will be strapped to iron bars and the silent hydrocyanic gas turned on. One breath of it will cause instant death.

Then the gas will be turned off and the doors opened. The dead men will hang by their straps until the room is cleared sufficiently to permit their being cut down with safety.

ILLNESS DELAYS DAUGHERTY CASE

NEW YORK, May 18.—Arrangement of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, indicted here for conspiracy to defraud the government, was postponed today until Thursday, on account of illness of Miller.

Miller's illness provided a peculiar coincidence, following, as it did, the death of John T. King, of Connecticut, who died last week, a few days after he had been indicted with Miller and Daugherty.

Miller is at his home in Wilmington, Del., where it is said he is suffering from infection in one leg, the result of a fall. He recently was in a hospital at Philadelphia for treatment.

TEAPOT CASE IN HANDS OF JUDGES

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 18.—The government appeal from the decision against annulment of the famous Teapot Dome oil lease to the Sinclair interests today is under consideration by three judges of the U. S. circuit court of appeals.

Arguments in the appeal were finished last Monday—arguments which lasted more than six hours. Last night, the three judges, William S. Kenyon, Arba Van Valkenburgh and William A. Cant, gave no indication of when they would make their decision.

Government attorneys, headed by Owen J. Roberts, of Philadelphia, charged that Judge T. Blake Kenney, who last year refused annulment of the leases on the ground there was no fraud or irregularity, "had started out with a slant of mind against the government."

Martin W. Littleton, New York, chief attorney for the Sinclair interests, said not one bit of evidence had been introduced by the government at Cheyenne to show that there were irregularities or fraud in connection with obtaining the lease.

JAIL OIL MAN ON SHORTAGE CHARGE

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—Robert E. Pullman, Whittier, secretary-treasurer of the Murphy Oil company, was held in the county jail here today in connection with an alleged shortage of $6000 on the company's books.

He has admitted the defalcations, according to the district attorney's office.

The alleged swindle was conducted by altering sales manifests, it was said. An investigator from the district attorney's office claims he trapped Pullman by giving him marked money for a sales manifest which was later found crumpled in a waste basket.

Grand Army Holds Business Session

PASADENA, May 18.—Pasadena will welcome California's Civil war veterans in the first formal session of the 58th annual G.A.R. encampment tonight.

U. S. Senator Samuel S. Stoddard will be the principal speaker, with responses from Dr. C. S. Stoddard, department commander, G.A.R., and others.

The great business session opened this afternoon with a report from the committee on credentials.

WISCONSIN FOREST FIRES DIE DOWN

GRANDON, Wis., May 18.—Forest fires, which started some time yesterday and assumed threatening proportions near Alvin Monday, were brought under control today, as the high wind which swept this section died down. Brush fires are reported burning in other sections of northern Wisconsin, although none of them was reported dangerous, and they are being watched closely by volunteer fire fighters.

FORMER EXCHANGE HEAD SENTENCED

HANFORD, Calif., May 18.—B. D. Biggerstaff, formerly president of the local Exchange club, and prominent in local business circles, will be taken to San Quentin tomorrow to begin serving an indeterminate sentence for forgery.

Biggerstaff admitted that he had forged contracts in the sale of electrical appliances and had collected advances on them from a local financing concern operated by J. Clarence Rice. On the witness stand yesterday afternoon, Rice testified that his company was defrauded of over $17,000 in Biggerstaff's operations covering two years.

Biggerstaff made a vigorous plea for probation, offering to make full restitution, but the judge saw no extenuating circumstances in the case.

Agitator Nabbed In Bombing Plot

BUENOS AIRES, May 18.—Police today were holding Pedro Favero, known as an agitator, who was arrested in connection with the bombing of the chancery of the American embassy here Sunday.

Favero was arrested last night after raids on the headquarters of various extremists' societies and offices of the newspaper La Antorchita.

Nome turned out en masse to greet the photographers, they reported, while it displayed an intensely cold feeling toward Roald Amundsen, holding that the explorer tricked Nome when he landed at Teller and not at Nome, as scheduled.

Resumption of Capt. George H. Wilkins' exploration flight over the wastes north of Point Barrow is thought likely to be delayed for several more days, due principally to fog.

NO NEWS REEL SCOOP ON NORGE PICTURES

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 18.—There will be no "scoop" in the news reel picture of the Norge's arrival in Alaska. Despite expenditure of $3000 each by two rival news reel companies on chartered airplanes and heroic efforts by the operators of both companies.

Bearing reels of pictures from Teller, where the Norge landed, both planes left Nome at the same time for the run to Fairbanks. A light rain dispelled any slight advantage either might have had in speed and they arrived in Fairbanks within 12 minutes of each other.

Both films were in time to catch the mid-week boat for Seattle at Seward.

The main purpose of the flight, too, was defeated. On arrival at Teller they found that the Norge had been deflated. The news reel men were able to photograph only a shapeless mass to represent to the eyes of the world the big bag that flew over the north pole.

Nome turned out en masse to greet the photographers, they reported, while it displayed an intensely cold feeling toward Roald Amundsen, holding that the explorer tricked Nome when he landed at Teller and not at Nome, as scheduled.

Resumption of Capt. George H. Wilkins' exploration flight over the wastes north of Point Barrow is thought likely to be delayed for several more days, due principally to fog.

61 SPEEDERS GET JAIL SENTENCES

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—Sixty-one speeders were given jail sentences varying from two to three days by Judge Joseph Chambers up to noon today, bringing the total number of jail sentences in the last nine days to 291.

More than 400 alleged violators of traffic laws crowded into Judge Chambers' courtroom during the day.

Richard Kittrell and other prominent Los Angeles attorneys announced today they would fight Judge Chambers' determined campaign against speeders.

The lawyers declared they would challenge the constitutionality of the state law on careless driving, and demand jury trials for any defendants who desired to contest the speed charges.

Deported Priest Reaches Laredo

LAREDO, Tex., May 18.—Declaration that he had in his possession proof of the falsity of the charges that resulted in his expulsion from Mexico was made by the Rev. Father George Caruana, papal representative, upon arrival here today from Mexico City.

Caruana crossed the border from Nuevo Laredo early today, escorted by U. S. Consul Walsh, of Nuevo Laredo.

The papal delegate was ordered to leave the southern republic by a presidential order charging he had failed to register correctly his religion and profession and gained entrance by passport irregularities.

Downs to Start For Penitentiary

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—Charles E. Downs, former city councilman, who was convicted of bribery, will be taken to San Quentin penitentiary Friday night to start serving a 1 to 14-year sentence.

Downs, through his attorney, H. L. Geisler, withdrew his writ of probable cause in superior court today. The writ has withheld the execution of his sentence.

Geisler declared he still intends to appeal the case to the supreme court.

WILLIAMS VERDICT MAY BE SET ASIDE

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Hints were forthcoming in navy quarters this afternoon that the conviction of Col. Alexander Williams, at San Diego, might be vacated.

Williams, found guilty of drinking charges, would be freed if the navy department here held that important evidence introduced by Gen. Smedley Butler against Williams was inadmissible.

Secretary of the Navy Willbur explained that the study of evidence had taken longer than anticipated, and elsewhere it developed that local authorities in the department disagreed as to admissibility of certain points in the testimony.

GIRL FLEES MANSION TO HIDE IN ROOMING HOUSE

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—Marie Haugen, 14-year-old Pasadena girl, who ran away from her palatial Pasadena home, was sought in a tawdry Los Angeles rooming house district today, following the arrest of S. F. Meyers, youthful building contractor, in San Francisco.

Meyers, according to information to local police, told of officers in San Francisco that he had taken the girl to a lodging house here.

"She told me she was running away from home," Meyers said. "I felt sorry for her and wanted to help her. I drove her to the apartment house on San Julian street and returned home."

Meyers was arrested on a kidnapping charge, on complaint of O. O. Haugen, the girl's father. Meyers left today for Pasadena, in custody of officers.

Passaic Strikers Renew Plea For Federal Probe

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Passaic, N. J., mill strikers today renewed their plea for a federal investigation of the New Jersey textile industry.

More than a score of persons representing community organizations and churches in the strike have asked Senators Borah, Republican, Idaho; La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin; and Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, to use their influence for an investigation.

Borah was asked by William Van Eeck, spokesman of the group, to bring the La Follette resolution, calling for an investigation, to a vote on the floor of the senate.

Borah promised to take up the matter with La Follette and Wheeler at a meeting this afternoon.

Van Eeck told Borah that 10,000 workers still were on strike and that the men would be willing to go back to work at the same wages if the mill owners would recognize the right of the employees to organize.

SAILOR LOCKED IN CHURCH AND THEN ARRESTED

John Watson, a sailor, stationed in San Diego, was trapped in St. Joseph's Catholic church, 723 Garfield street, at midnight, after he had been seen entering the church through the rear door by M. Seufert, janitor, who locked him inside. The arrest was made by Officers Mohn and Fink, who answered Seufert's call for help.

The sailor now is in the county jail, facing two charges, burglary and grand larceny, the latter in connection with the finding of an automobile, near the church, in which officers found a sea bag, containing navy clothing.

The automobile was stolen from a Glendale street last night, according to information obtained by the police department early today.

Watson entered the church by using a pass key, it was said. He had no sooner gained entrance, when Seufert locked the door from the outside, imprisoning the sailor.

Watson probably will be given a hearing this afternoon before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

LONG BEACH—Rapid progress in the construction of the Long Beach breakwater is indicated in reports filed with the city that show that practically 1000 feet of the trestle has already been constructed and that actual delivery of rock will begin early in June. The work, which is being carried out under the direction of the Hauser Construction company of Oakland, which also has the contracts for the east and west moles at the harbor entrance, is up to schedule, company officials reported. Approximately 75,000 tons of rock are being brought to Long Beach harbor from the quarries in Riverside county each month and this is being utilized on the construction of both moles and the bulkheads on the

MARKS, AMES, NELSON AND THOMAS VIRTUALLY CERTAIN CANDIDATES FOR JUDGESHIP

With the recent vacancy on the superior court bench of Orange county filled by appointment of Judge Homer G. Ames, of Anaheim, and that contest definitely out of the way, attention of political circles turned ahead today to the question of filling all of the three places on the bench at the coming elections.

Two of the three departments of the court are to be filled for a term of six years. The third department will be open for election to a term of four years and approximately two months, this being the unexpired portion of the six-year term to which former Judge F. C. Drumm was elected in 1924.

A canvass of the situation today, including six of the seven prospective candidates for the bench, disclosed that for will, in all likelihood, be in the race, with two not yet committed to decision. The seventh could not be reached for a statement.

Competition, it appears, will center upon the two long terms, three of the four assured candidates announcing their aspirations for those places and the two undecided prospects admitting that, if they run, they will try for the long term. They will leave the field for the short term open to the incumbent, Judge E. J. Marks, who admits a preference for that campaign.

Three Seek Long Term

Former Judge W. Thomas, District Attorney A. P. Nelson and Judge Homer G. Ames are the three who are understood to be virtually assured candidates for the long term. It is expected that Thomas will make his official announcement this week. Nelson already has avowed his candidacy and Judge Ames is equally well understood to be in the race, although he has not officially confirmed that report.

W. P. Menton, Santa Ana attorney, stated that he is not yet ready to decide whether he would or would not become a candidate. William P. Webb Jr., Anaheim lawyer, also is undecided as to his candidacy, he said. Both will try for the long term if they make the campaign, they said.

James L. Allen, Santa Ana attorney, was out of the city today and could not be reached for a statement of his plans. Allen, with Webb, Menton, Thomas and Nelson, was an applicant for the appointment that was given to Judge Ames, to serve the term of Judge Marks to the time of Judge Ames's term, and that of Judge Ames to replace Judge R. Y. Williams, will expire at the time of the November election.

Two Months' Vacancy. In Judge Ames' department that will leave a vacancy of nearly two months between the date of election, when his appointment expires, and January 1, 1926, when the term of the elected candidate commences. In Judge Marks' department, however, no such vacancy will occur, as the candidate who is elected to serve out the unexpired term will take office immediately. As stated, Judge Marks himself is the only candidate now in sight for that term.

The approaching vacancy in Judge Ames' department is causing speculation in official circles, where it is stated that there are two ways in which it may be filled. One of these is by election, the other by appointment from the governor. It is regarded as unlikely that any candidate will try for this break term of two months and the general view is that Governor Richardson will appoint whoever is elected to serve the two months before the start of his term.

EL CENTRO—With more than 120 carloads of famous Imperial valley cantaloupes rolling daily, this section has started a season that bids fair to establish another high record for local agricultural production. To and including May 11, shipments of cantaloupes totaled 448 carloads, or 438 more cars shipped than to the same date last year according to figures compiled by C. E. Schultz, department of agriculture representative in Imperial valley. One hundred and twenty-three cars of melons were dispatched May 11, as compared to 10 cars on the same date in 1925. No cars have been shipped to May 11 prior to 1925.

SAN DIEGO—With the announcement that work has been started on the $1,000,000 Shoreside Country club, situated nine miles below the International border, on the coast line, another large project in the development of the lower coast has taken concrete form. Development plans for another large concession, granted in Ensenada were announced last week. The Shoreside club is to be situated on a tract of 4000 acres of land, which includes picturesque mountain and beach sites. The location is approximately 25 miles from San Diego, over the Ensenada highway. Development plans call for construction of a seashore golf course, a modern clubhouse, villas and auxiliary buildings. The buildings are to be in keeping with the architecture of the local style and will be of adobe brick, finished in white plaster with red tile roofs.

EL CENTRO—Harold Liebert, of Seelye, has brought to town what is believed to be the first ripe watermelon of the 1926 season in Imperial valley. The melon was ripe and of excellent flavor. According to a survey by the horticultural commissioner's office, there are about 4000 acres of watermelons in the Valley this year, and much of the crop will be shipped within the next 30 days. Several fields will produce much later. From present indications, the price to the growers will be good, as there will be little competition in the coast markets from other districts, due to weather conditions.

COUNTY URGED TO TAKE OVER RELIEF WORK

Recommendations that the county take over the greater portion of the work now handled by the Crippled Children's Relief Association of Orange County, including the employment of a trained psycho-therapist, were made today at the meeting of the board of supervisors by Dr. H. E. Zaiser, in charge of the county hospital, and Dr. V. G. Presson, county health officer.

Under this arrangement, the county would defray all expenses incidental to purchase of braces, artificial limbs, medicines, supplies, etc., needed in treatments. In presenting the report Dr. Zaiser told the supervisors that he and his colleague, Dr. Presson, are not in accord with W. S. Gregg, county aid commissioner.

It was brought out that the aid commissioner was at first in agreement with the recommendations submitted by the county surgeons, but afterward changed his mind. Gregg did not appear at the meeting nor did he submit a separate report.

In the absence of a report by Gregg, no action was taken by the supervisors on the recommendation submitted by the county health officials.

EXPECT HEALTH CAMP TO OPEN LATE IN JUNE

That only as many children as can be financed with the funds available will be kept for three months in the children's open-air health camp, was the decision made last night at the executive board meeting of the Orange County Tuberculosis association, held in the office of the president, Dr. John Wahby. This number was conservatively placed at 20, between the ages of six and 10. As donations for the work come in, more little ones will be admitted to the camp and, as much interest has been evicted by various organizations and individuals of the county, it is hoped that double that number of underweight and mal-nourished children can be admitted to play the health game.

To Examine Children. Dr. Gladys Shahowitch, children's tuberculosis expert with the Los Angeles board of education, will visit Santa Ana and make examinations and tests of children to be admitted to the camp, in order to ascertain their family history and to determine whether they need the camp life.

The county road department, under the direction of R. C. Northerness will begin immediately clearing the camp site in San Diego canyon, near Orange county park, which has been provided by James Irvine. As soon as the Trabuco road is made passable, the buildings on the old site will be wrecked and brought to the new location. It is hoped that the camp will be opened late in June.

An audit of the books of the association has been made and was presented last night.

Cost Here is low. Mrs. Amelia Meagher, executive secretary of the association, will be in charge of the camp. It was shown that the Orange county camp is run more economically than any visited, recently, by Mrs. Meagher, the cost here being 93 cents per child.

Dr. John Wehrly last night offered the use of his office and equipment, if Dr. E. W. Hayes, tuberculosis expert, of Monrovia, can be secured for another day to hold diagnostic chest clinics, the decision having been made that only indigents may take advantage of the clinic now being held once a week in the Orange County hospital.

It was decided that the same number of Christmas seals should be purchased for sale this year and that clerical work for the campaign should begin July 1.

MOVE MADE TO CURB SPEEDERS DODGING TRIAL

Motorists arrested on the state highway by state officers must be able to satisfy the arresting officer as to their place of residence, or they will be brought immediately into court. It was announced today from the state traffic office by Capt. Henry C. Meehan.

Numerous cases were cited where the motorist has given false statements as to where he lived and, after failure to appear in court to answer to his summons, has escaped the law because officers have been unable to find him. It was said.

Captain Meehan said that a large number of drivers' licenses, called for by officers when making arrests, do not give the address where the motorist lives at the time of arrest.

FARM EXPERTS MAKE TOUR OF ORANGE COUNTY

Western directors of co-operative extension work in agriculture and home economics, numbering 15, and representing 11 states, today visited Orange county on a special tour of inspection. The party, which is headed by Prof. B. H. Crocheron, director of agricultural extension, University of California, arrived here last night and registered at St. Ann's Inn.

Included in the party are Dr. W. A. Lloyd, director of extension work, U. S. department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.; Dean E. D. Merrill, college of agriculture, University of California, Berkeley; E. J. Iddings, dean and director of the college of agriculture and agricultural experiment station, University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho; Rand McCamarr, Port Collins, Colo.; P. H. Ross, University of Arizona, Tucson, Ariz.; William Peterson, Logan, Utah; Paul V. Maris, Corvallis, Oregon; A. E. Bowman, Laramie, Wyo.; S. B. Nelson, Pullman, Wn.; R. H. Taylor, state department of agriculture, Sacramento, Cal.; W. Robell, T. C. Mayhew, L. B. Smith, W. J. Norton and W. R. Ralston, faculty members of the college of agriculture, University of California, Berkeley.

Given Official Escort
On their trip through Orange county, the farm experts were accompanied by Harold E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, and T. E. Stephenson, managing editor of The Register. Motor traffic officers, detailed by the state motor vehicle department, escorted the party.

A visit to the farm advisor's office, followed by a brief talk on general program of work and co-operation of county organizations, preceded the inspection trip. In this connection, B. H. Crocheron, director of agricultural extension, took occasion to praise the work carried on by the Orange county office which, in matter of personnel and equipment, is one of the best organized agencies in the state, he remarked. Various facts, concerning drainage and alkali reclamation projects, were placed before the attention of the visitors.

Inspect Extension Work
Another phase of extension work to arrest the attention of the farm experts was a walnut thinning demonstration in the Lambert and Wells grove, Tush. At the San Joaquin Fruit company, the party was shown windbreak planting and, in Orange, the visitors inspected the septic tanks constructed in that city.

Following a stop at Lemon Heights, to view the panorama of the county, the party proceeded by way of Olive and the Santa Ana canyon to Corona, where it was entertained at luncheon.

Concealed Fortunes Reveal Secret of Wedding Date

THROUGH THE telling of fortunes was the marriage on May 8 of Miss Myrtle Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willis of 826 West Bishop street, to Earl Boyes of Los Angeles announced. The announcement took place Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents when Miss Grace Willis, a sister of Mrs. Boyes, was hostess at a delightful party.

Pink and white carnations were used as decorations and the evening passed quickly through the playing of several interesting games. The climax of the affair was reached when bouquets were distributed to the guests. The white ones went to the girls of the party and the pink ones to the men. In each bouquet was found a fortune which was read aloud.

Finally every fortune but the one in the bouquet of the honoree was ready. Finally opened, hers announced the fact of her marriage to Mr. Boyes, an electrician. The white ones went to the girls of the party and the pink ones to the men. In each bouquet was found a fortune which was read aloud.

Refreshments were served by the hostess who was assisted by Mrs. Alma Nelson. Guests were Miss Irene Adkinson, Miss Ruby Wilcox, Miss Esther Wilcox, Miss Beulah Wilcox, Miss Pauline Reynolds, Mrs. Alma Nelson, Buster Nelson, Harold Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boyes, Homer Wilcox, Russell Pendick, William Pendick, Edgar Ehlers, Voy Reach, Floyd Best, Clark Best, Mrs. Margaret Willis, Miss Marietta Piper and Elmer Sederson.

Another interesting event connected with the announcement of Miss Willis' marriage was the picnic held at San Juan Hot Springs Sunday by the same group of young people who attended the announcement party on the preceding date.

Dancing Classes at Ebell Clubhouse

With Tuesday the day for the McAdams school of dancing at Ebell clubhouse, today's classes of Ebell members were interesting indeed and the evening classes promise to be even more so.

Mrs. Emory D. White, Ebell member who has the general arrangements of the enterprise in charge, and through whom Miss McAdams presents her plans, announced today that both of tonight's classes would be open for registration of new members, either for full or half terms.

The 7 o'clock class is for young people of high school and junior college age, while the 8 o'clock class is for adult pupils. The weekly class day promises to be one of the most important and interesting of the many Ebell ventures, and marked enthusiasm in the work is being expressed not only by members, but by everyone interested in acquiring the art of feature or acrobatic dancing or the latest steps in social dancing. For lessons are not limited to Ebell membership—everyone is eligible to sign for either class work or private lessons.

Ebell Travelers

A delightful description of London and an attractive picture of England's country side made an enjoyable program yesterday afternoon for the last meeting for the year of the fourth travel section of Ebell held in the lounge of the clubhouse.

Summer Travelers Are Made Incentive for Pretty Luncheon

BON VOYAGE was expressed in a delightful manner yesterday by Mrs. Theo A. Winbiger who entertained a luncheon honoring Mrs. Elmer Bear Burns, Mrs. B. H. Sharpless and Miss Claire Sharpless, all three of whom will sail in the near future for a summer abroad.

Mrs. Winbiger, who will herself be a summer transcontinental traveler, expressed her hospitality in a delightfully planned luncheon at her home, 207 East Ninth street. Two tables were arranged in the spacious dining-room amidst a wealth of vivid garden flowers, and guests found their places by means of clever cards representing travelers and their paraphernalia of trunks, bags and hat-boxes.

One table was centered with a cut-glass bowl filled with cosmos in rose tints and bore candles in rose and yellow. The other table followed a pink and blue color scheme with pink roses and baby breath in a cut glass bowl and blue candles in crystal holders. A happy feature of the luncheon was the presence of "Mother" Mills, Mrs. Winbiger's mother who not only joined the group for the enjoyment of a delicious four-course luncheon, but remained for the friendly chat of the afternoon.

In the interval between serving the salad and the sweets course, Mrs. J. B. Roberts called for the guests to read the messages of their place cards, and added interest was given the clever verses, when it was learned that they were written by Mr. Winbiger to fit the occasion. They were quite pointed and offered advice not only to the travelers, but through them, to Mr. Burns and Mr. Sharpless as well.

In the afternoon, the hostess provided stationery and pencils for travel notes to brighten the voyages of the travelers. Arrival of Monroe Sharpless and Miss Ruth Armstrong was the occasion for introduction of an informal little program, as the talented young man sang a group of songs with Miss Armstrong as his accompanist. He announced that he would sing "Ave Maria" and "Trees" (Rashbach) but his rendering of the two songs was so beautiful that another was demanded and he brought tears to the eyes of many as he sang "Mother O' Mine" as a graceful tribute to his own mother, leaving so soon for France.

Mrs. Elliott gave a monologue group and Mrs. W. L. Grubb in her own inimitable fashion, told of her excellent intentions of writing a poetic tribute to the travelers, and the chain of circumstances that prevented. The talk was quite as enjoyable as any verse could have been, and was marked by Mrs. Grubb's own effervescent humor.

Mrs. Winbiger's guests included a few of the closer Santa Ana friends of the honorees who were joined by Mrs. A. Otis Birch of Los Angeles, a friend of long standing, and bridesmaid at the wedding of both Mrs. Winbiger and Mrs. Burns. Other invited guests included in addition to Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Sharpless and Miss Sharpless, Mrs. John L. Wehrly, Mrs. Emma L. French, Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, Mrs. C. W. Burns, Mrs. J. B. Roberts, Mrs. J. E. Gowen, Mrs. Carl Burns, Mrs. F. W. Wiesseman, Mrs. William J. Stauffer, Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, Mrs. W. L. Grubb, Mrs. Ernest Winbiger, Mrs. Joseph Metzgar, Mrs. Charles Kendall, Mrs. Clarence Gustlin and Mrs. Charles Hill.

Streams combined with the historical old cathedrals, abbeys, inns and quaint houses. English roads wander about at will, just as a person walks and a hundred little adventures may be had by the traveler, who does not know where he will be when night overtakes him, but who is also sure of hospitality.

The program decided upon for next season was a Mediterranean cruise, touching, many delightful points along the route taken. Mrs. L. C. Schmidt will be leader next year.

Young Matron Honors Return of Mother With Luncheon

NONE of the pleasant manners in which Mrs. Mary Jacques was welcomed to the southland after an extended visit in Taft with her daughter, Miss Irene Jacques, physical culture teacher in the high school of that city, was the luncheon planned for her by a second daughter, Mrs. Worth Alexander at her home on Newport Boulevard.

While a wealth of flowers adorned the pleasant home, a pink color scheme was adhered to as far as possible, with roses, columbine and carnations in unusual abundance, the latter flower as a bit of Mother's Day sentiment.

A four-course luncheon was served by the young matron, with places arranged for her honor guest, Mrs. Jacques, Mrs. James E. Alexander, Miss Easter Jacques, Mrs. Urban Plavan and her small daughter, Florence Eleanor, or as she is known by all the family, "Flo Flo," and Mrs. Cecil Bruce of Anaheim and her little daughter Dorothy. The afternoon hours were devoted to friendly chat and to music with Mrs. Bruce, a talented pianist, giving several selections. One of the most entertaining features was the Charleston as danced by the two little three-year-old lassies, Dorothy and Flo-Flo, who proved to be quite expert little dancers.

Mrs. Jacques will leave soon for Long Beach where she will spend the summer, so the party was quite as much a farewell as a welcome. Miss Irene Jacques with whom she visited during the winter and spring months, was connected with the Anaheim schools before going to Taft and has hosts of friends who are interested in her work in the north.

Delicious luncheons and dinners in the future, under his reign.

The Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church plans a most interesting affair for tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church auditorium where a memorial service for friends and members who have passed on, will be presented. Miss Octavia Goldsorthy will read the play "At the Foot of the Rainbow" by Myrtle Glenn Roberts and appropriate music will be offered. A social hour when tea will be served, will close the afternoon. The Unitarian Alliance has for its aim, work for the needy children of Santa Ana and meets once a month to sew for them. Friends who wish to assist will be welcomed at each meeting and donations of any sort will be gratefully received.

The Sixth Household Economics section of Ebell will meet Friday, May 21, at the Laguna Beach cottage of Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner. Members unable to attend are requested to phone Mrs. Baumgartner at 186. Those having no means of transportation and those having room for others in their cars are requested to notify Mrs. H. T. Trueblood at 854-R.

The Missionary department of the Congregational church will meet at the home of Mrs. J. E. Gowen, 925 Spurgeon street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Devotionals will be led by Mrs. W. D. Tedford. The topic will be "The Meaning of the Communion." Mrs. F. H. Bloodgood will speak on "The Slave at Home." Mrs. E. M. Nealley, chairman of the hostess committee, announces that Mrs. Arthur May will sing.

Newport Harbor Yacht club members are anticipating a series of brilliant events over the Memorial Day holiday, for the club birthday will be celebrated together with the formal spring opening, on Saturday, May 29. On the two following days, Sunday and Memorial day, yacht races will occupy the attention of members and guests. The fact that John G. Banks has taken over the dining salon will be of added interest to members who anticipate many delicious meals.

Two Smart Functions Are Presented by Mrs. Chapman

REPRESENTING the second of a pair of enjoyable bridge luncheons, Mrs. George L. Chapman entertained yesterday at her home, 2032 North Main street, where she was aided in receiving by Mrs. James L. Allen and Mrs. Charles L. Davis.

The initial affair was one of Saturday's pleasant events and Miss Gertrude Minor was co-hostess with her sister, Mrs. Chapman. The latter's two daughters, the Misses Katherine and Gertrude Chapman, assisted in receiving and Miss Roe Roberts of New Albany, Indiana, was honor guest.

Miss Roberts is the guest of relatives in Pasadena, and came over for the party arranged to honor her. She is an accomplished musician and added greatly to the charm of the afternoon by playing a group of piano numbers including several MacDowell compositions. Hers was the low score at bridge, and she received the attractive consolation gift chosen by Mrs. Chapman and Miss Minor. First honors went to Mrs. Alice Harris and second to Mrs. Horace B. Van Dien.

Yesterday afternoon, bridge again formed the after-luncheon diversion, and Mrs. W. L. Haddon scored high with Mrs. W. L. H. Benton, second and Mrs. James L. Allen. Each affair was marked by a brilliant array of flowers garnered not only from the gardens of the hostesses but from those of their friends, who showered choice blossoms to add in furthering the charm of each day's event.

CIANFONI GIVES REASONS FOR BAND SUPPORT

D. C. Cianfoni, director of the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra and Santa Ana Municipal band, presented at the sacred concert, given Sunday afternoon in the Four Square Gospel tabernacle, eleven reasons why voters of Santa Ana should cast ballots favorable to the six-cent levy for support of the municipal band.

He presented the points in a discussion regarding the progress of music in this city in the last few years. His 11 points were as follows:

1.—Because there is no religion without music.

2.—Because music is part of our life.

3.—Because your children must have musical education to properly appreciate life.

4.—Because a fine concert band is an important factor in musical progress.

5.—Because we want to grow as fast as Long Beach has with the attraction it offers by its municipal band.

6.—Because the money voted for support of the band will be paid to local musicians and will come back in many ways.

7.—Because the band is composed of the finest type of men, men who have given of their money and time to create the organization.

8.—Because a good municipal band will advertise the city as a cultured community.

9.—Because Santa Ana is very little known outside of Orange county.

10.—Because it would cost each person in the city only one cent for each concert the band would present in the course of a year.

11.—Because we all realize that our boys and girls need more clean entertainment.

In Sunday afternoon's concert, the selection from Lucia, the Unfinished Symphony, and the overture Tampa were the features of the numbers by the orchestra.

The vocal selections by Mrs. J. R. Holman were received enthusiastically. The singer gave splendid interpretation of Strauss' "Canzona di Primavera" and responded to an encore.

The band will give a sacred concert in Birch park next Sunday afternoon and, in the evening, the orchestra will present in the First Methodist church here the concluding program in the series of sacred concerts arranged for various churches in the city.

VISIT LIBRARY IF CHECKBOOK SAYS YOU CAN'T ENJOY BRIEF VACATION AWAY FROM HOME

Now that the first really warm, balmy days (ideal California weather) have come, the wanderlust has found its way into everyone's blood. Father gets out his checkbook and mother plans a trip east or to Europe, but, when the time arrives, the family goes to the nearest beach for the summer, because it is cheaper than living in town.

Teachers plan to, and do, go to Europe, but then they are favored above most mortals—they have three months' vacation, where others must get along with two weeks.

Newspaper reporters seem to find the mountains the proper place to spend their holidays.

Then there is the class that always goes to Catalina, or some similar place, and last, the class which can afford to do as it pleases when vacation time rolls around.

Books For Stay-at-Homes

The ones, however, for whom this story is written, are the ones who get out their checkbooks, plan a vacation and then decide that the only thing that possibly can be done is to stay at home. That decision generally is reached after the checkbooks have been examined.

"It is natural that one should be sorry for the stay-at-homes," said Miss Jeanette McFadden, city librarian, "and so we have provided for them the next best thing to a trip somewhere during vacation time."

Provision made by Miss McFadden consists of the placing of several books on the table, near the door, over which is a sign, with the words, "Wanderlust Bookshelf." Here may be found books that will carry one into Asia, Africa or Europe and, in so doing, not upset the checkbook in the least.

After reading Harry A. Franck's "Wandering in Northern China," one may talk of his trip to China in the same intelligent manner as the one who actually visited there.

Many Interesting Books

The same is true of those who read "African Clearings," by Jean Kenyon MacKenzie, and "In An Unknown Land," by Thomas Gunn. Incidentally, it might interest the reader to know that the unknown lands, of which the author speaks, are as near home as Central America. The scene for the story is laid in Yucatan.

"Coasting Down East," by Ethel Hueston, holds many alluring promises for the city dweller, who wishes to search for cooler climes during his vacation. If this book is read on the porch, facing the west, after the sun has set, the illusion will be complete. The reader will truly believe that he is somewhere in Maine, watching the sun setting behind glorious fir trees.

If the reader is of a studious frame of mind and would like to make a study of some foreign country during the vacation time, he might read "The Syrian Christ," by Abraham Mitre Ribbany, which deals with an Oriental's reaction to Christianity and phases of home life among the Syrians.

If one is interested, he need only go to the city library to find many other books dealing with the places to which he would like to have gone on his vacation.

CIVIC CENTER PROPOSED BY COSTAMESANS

A group of wide-awake citizens of Costa Mesa last night held a meeting in the office of F. O. Ross and decided to launch a campaign to raise funds for the purpose of establishing an up-to-date community center in Costa Mesa. The General Organization company was employed to conduct the campaign, which is to begin about June 1.

It is proposed to erect a community building on property immediately adjacent to the school house, where the people of the community will be afforded opportunities for meetings, entertainments and community activities of all kinds. The building will be suitably arranged so that indoor athletics may be enjoyed, while a feature will be a large kitchen, so that the building may be used for banquets and similar events.

In connection with the project, a modern and attractive community church would be erected immediately next to the community building.

Funds with which to carry the project through are to be raised by public subscription under a novel plan, which contemplates substituting loans for gifts and assures to every subscriber the return of the money loaned to the project, it is said. John L. S. Cooke, campaign director on the staff of the General Organization company, addressed the meeting last night and will be in charge of the campaign.

12 Dozen Bottles Alleged Beer Are Captured In Raid

Twelve dozen bottles of alleged beer were found in the home of Pete Fancommer, resident of the Hellman ranch, near Los Alamitos, yesterday afternoon, when Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff, and Joe Ryan, deputy sheriff, raided the place, according to a report made at the sheriff's office. Fancommer and his wife were brought to Santa Ana and taken before Justice Kenneth Morrison. They were released, pending an investigation.

Police News

Herman Zabel, finger print expert at the sheriff's office, has returned to his duties here after spending 10 days in Hemet.

Police were called to the home of H. Duncan, 1523 East Fourth street, last night, when it was reported that an attempt was being made by burglars to enter the house. No one was found.

Court Notes

Trial in Progress.

The trial of a $7500 damage suit, brought by Margaret J. Reid against Mrs. T. R. O'Connell, owner of a woman's shop in Santa Ana, was still in progress today before a jury in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court, where it commenced yesterday. Mrs. Reid claims damages for alleged eviction from her tenancy of quarters in Mrs. O'Connell's store and for annoyances she claims to have suffered while there.

Hearing Is Set.

Hearing upon two petitions for writs of habeas corpus, sought by E. L. Eubanks and A. N. Pendergast, sentenced to the county jail for possession of liquor, today was set for 9 a. m., tomorrow, before Superior Judge E. J. Marks.

Eubanks was sentenced to six months and Pendergast, three months, when they were found guilty, by City Recorder W. A. Leonard, of Newport Beach. Attorney O. A. Jacobs, representing them, questions the legal right of the court to send his clients to jail without having proved them to be second offenders, or having received their plea to a second offense.

The maximum penalty in their case, Jacobs contends, is a fine of $300.

Seeks to Foreclose.

Marion E. Green has filed suit in superior court against Mr. and Mrs. Stanley LaDue and others, to foreclose a mortgage of $5161 against property in Huntington Beach.

...and how..and when..and where

WHEN a Power Company in California prepares to build a new plant, all plans must be submitted to the Railroad Commission. It is the Commission's privilege to say how the plant shall be built and when it shall be built and where it shall be built.

This results in the most economical use of power resources and the most equitable distribution of service—another reason why California has the finest power system in the world. Electricity is cheaper than before the war while the average cost of all other commodities is 65% higher.

Think of this the next time you read about a new power plant.

BOULEVARD STOPS MAY BE ORDERED ON ALL STREETS CROSSING NORTH BROADWAY

Boulevard stops on all streets intersecting North Broadway, and stops at dangerous intersections on other streets where motorists are not now forced to come to a halt before entering a main artery, are expected to follow investigations to be made this week by Stanley Goode, street commissioner on the city council, and Nat H. Neff, city engineer. The subject was taken up at last night's meeting of the city council.

The fatal accident last Friday afternoon at Seventeenth and Broadway, and increased traffic on that thoroughfare resulting from motorists desiring to avoid traffic on North Main street, directed attention of the street commissioner to the need for stops on Broadway. It was pointed out that north-bound motorists are more and more avoiding the heavy traffic on Main by going to Chapman street by way of Broadway and Flower streets, and that there is real need of stops on streets crossing Broadway. The two officials were authorized by the council last night to make investigations and recommendations for stop signs for incorporation in an amendment to the traffic ordinance.

Streets to Be Paved
Property owners on East Twentieth street, between Spurgeon and Santiago, and on Valencia street, between Seventeenth and Twentieth, soon will have granted by the city council a prayer for pavement made in a petition filed more than a year and a half ago. The board last night ordered plans and specifications for the improvement. Action on the petition has been held up pending definite determination as to whether the state railroad commission had jurisdiction over the established crossing of the Southern Pacific tracks on Twentieth street.

City Attorney Z. R. West Jr. has been advised that the commission has jurisdiction and he will at once file an application for permission to widen the crossing, which is now but 20 feet. However, in order to avoid the delay that will be involved in a hearing on the application, the improvement on the two streets will be made, with the Southern Pacific right-of-way omitted from the proceedings.

Pipe Contract Awarded
The Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry company was awarded the contract for supplying the city with 8000 feet of eight-inch water pipe on its bid of $9353. f. o. b. San Pedro. All bids for fittings were rejected.

City Engineer Neff was directed to investigate drainage conditions in the alley running from Sycamore to Broadway, between Third and Fourth streets, and report steps necessary to correct conditions responsible for failure of water to drain readily from the alley.

An amendment to the ordinance covering the keeping of animals on private property was given its first reading and referred to the city attorney. The amendment is proposed as a measure to take care of situations arising by reason of the fur rabbit industry springing up here.

Will Widen First Street
Widening of East First street, from Main east to the Southern Pacific tracks, will be carried out as planned by the city council when repaving of the street first came up for consideration.

Last night was the date set by the council for public hearings on protests to the proposed widening. Protests were filed by owners representing 32.69 per cent of the frontage, but no one was present at the meeting to enter verbal protest. The protests were denied and the widening work will proceed whenever the city body deems the steps necessary.

Proposed paving of Fruit street, from Garfield street to Grand avenue, is to be revived under an order of the council, directing that property owners again circulate a petition for the improvement. The original petition was filed in July, 1923, and action has been deferred for various reasons.

The property owners are asked to designate definitely whether they want the improvement made with asphaltic concrete or with Portland cement concrete. It is possible effort will be made to widen Fruit street, as this suggestion was made when the petition was filed nearly two years ago.

REDWOOD HIGHWAY BRIDGE DEDICATED

REQUA, Calif., May 18.—Marking the virtual completion of a great continuous highway linking California and Oregon, the Douglas Memorial bridge across the Klamath river was dedicated yesterday by the governors of the connected states. Midway between Eureka and the Oregon state line, crossing the Klamath at a point where the stream is a quarter of a mile wide, the bridge is the final link in the great Redwood highway, which joins across in Oregon with the unbroken Pacific highway. The bridge is formed of five concrete spans, with a total length of 1150 feet. It is the largest in the California highway system. Addresses were made by Gov. Friend W. Richardson, California, and Gov. Walter M. Pierce, Oregon. The structure was christened by Mrs. G. H. Douglas, widow of a former California assemblyman, in whose honor the span was named.

PEACH PRICES ARE RAISED AS GROWERS SPLIT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—The California Canning Cling Peach Growers' association today was on record favoring prices of $40, first grade, and $20, second grade, for this season's crop, while a new organization of peach growers held out for $50 on first grade stock.

The board of directors of the California growers reached its decision on prices after five hours' deliberation yesterday. The verdict received the approval of more than 100 association members, who earlier in their annual meeting had voted full confidence in their directors. The prices were based on a desire to obtain the highest possible price for this season's peaches and at the same time to enable the canneries to market the product, according to the directors.

An increase of 25 per cent is expected over last year in the cling peach canning crop, with the total estimated at 270,000 tons. It was brought out in open meeting by S. C. Day, Loomis, and A. D. Paget, manager of the association. It also was pointed out that cost of production cannot be taken into consideration in setting prices, as supply and demand are the deciding factors.

The $40 price this year, an increase of $5 over last year's price, will mean an increase of approximately 5 cents a can to the ultimate consumer, it was declared. Organization of the new group, representing, it was said, one-third of the tonnage controlled by the "independents," was thought directly due to the older association's action.

Members of the new organization asserted a $50 price is necessary to give them a fair return on their crops. The group adopted the name of "Northern and Central California Peach Growers" and admitted as members growers from Butte, Sutter, Yuba, San Joaquin and Stanislaus counties. James M. Cremin, Marysville, was elected temporary president.

PUBLIC BUILDING REPORT ADOPTED

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The senate has adopted the conference report of the $165,000,000 public buildings bill, which provides for construction of $15,000,000 worth of public buildings in 63 towns and cities and institutes a five-year building program affecting all states. The measure was amended in conference to authorize the secretary of the treasury to allocate the $100,000,000 appropriated for buildings in the various states "on the basis of area, population and postal receipts."

The secretary also was authorized to "recommend construction of at least two buildings in each state annually for post offices with receipts of more than $100,000 for the last preceding year," provided such cities do not have federal post office buildings.

County Chambers Body Will Hold Anaheim Session

The annual special meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce will be held in the Elks' club, Anaheim, at 6:30 Thursday night, according to an announcement today by George Reid, secretary of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce and manager of the California Valencia show.

It has been the custom of the associated chambers to meet in Anaheim either in regular or special meeting, during the presentation of the orange show. Dinner and a program by some of the entertainers at the orange show will be special features of the session. It is not expected that business matters will be discussed.

The regular May meeting of the county booster body will be held Thursday night, May 27, in Laguna Beach.

Sour Stomach
"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly. For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges sour waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent bottles, any drug store.—Adv.

A-DOF-LUS Contains Vital Elements of Health

What Every Doctor Knows
Acidophilus Milk is used by the medical profession to effect a transformation of the flora of the intestines, eliminating the undesirable bacteria and implanting in their place a desirable health-giving flora. Acidophilus Milk is prescribed and is acknowledged to be a specific therapy in cases of intestinal toxemia, chronic constipation, chronic diarrhea and other intestinal disorders. Also recommended in treatment of rheumatic conditions and facial eruptions traced to intestinal origin, and in summer diarrhoea and other intestinal toxic conditions of infants.
To the taste A-dof-lus is a rich, creamy food beverage with the flavor of fresh, cool buttermilk—but in reality it is a pure, scientifically-processed Acidophilus milk.
This milk has long been prescribed (at prescription rates) by the medical profession as the best known specific for many cases of intestinal disorders. Now for the first time a pure acidophilus milk, in delicious, palatable form, is available fresh daily at about commercial milk prices.
Acidophilus, when implanted through the regular use of A-dof-lus, will live and grow in the intestines, eliminating the poisonous and harmful bacteria that result from years of careless or improper diet.
A-dof-lus contains the vital elements which change the flora of the intestines to a healthy flora, and which allow nature to develop vigorous strength, virility and alert mentality.

S.A. RELIGIOUS
OF CHURCHESEXPRESS DOUBT
FOR PASSAGE
OF DAM BILL

A meeting was held last Monday night, in the Spurgeon Memorial church, in the interests of forming a religious educational council in Santa Ana. For some time the leaders in the various churches of Santa Ana have felt the need for a council of religious education, through which they could work on a community basis in this capacity. In this work they would be following the course that has been adopted by many of the neighboring cities in Southern California.

A plan of organization was determined and a constitution adopted. They will be submitted to the various churches of the city and the congregations adopting them will be considered participating churches.

The Rev. Logan Harter was elected temporary chairman and T. P. McKee, temporary secretary. The regular officers will be elected in the near future.

The following persons were present and took part in the meeting:

H. W. Lewis, M. B. Youel, H. A. Kern, the Rev. Moffitt Rhodes, Miss Phyllis White, Tom Hunter, James H. Hughes, R. R. Lutes, C. E. Rollins, Mr. Anderson, Mr. Tucker, Miss Davidson, the Rev. H. G. Burgess, T. P. McKee and the Rev. Logan Harter.

BREA

BREA, May 18.—Brea lodge No. 459, I. O. O. F., will hold memorial services at 2 o'clock May 23 in the Red Lantern theater. The address is to be delivered by the Rev. Owen Hornburg of the Temple Community church, Pasadena, and everyone is welcome to attend. A chorus choir composed of 40 voices from this church will furnish a musical program. Members of Trinity Rebekah lodge No. 362 have been asked to join the subordinate lodge in these services and lodges from Whittier, Pomona, Chino and Pasadena are expected to take part.

W. E. Fanning, principal of the Brea grammar schools, and the primary grade teachers were in attendance at the meeting of the primary teachers of Orange county held recently in Huntington Beach.

Under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society of the Christian church of Brea, members of the Driggs family will present a splendid program in the Brea grammar school auditorium on the evening of May 20.

May 24 is to be children's day with the Woman's club, the meeting to be held in the parlors of the Congregational church. An interesting program for this occasion is being planned by Mrs. Julia Schweitzer. The matter of revisions in the by laws of the club will be taken up at this time.

Sparing no expense in the building of one of the finest courses to be found on any of the surrounding oil leases, the West Coast Oil company has just finished the cement work on its new tennis grounds on its lease southeast of Brea. Tennis teams are already being formed among the employees.

The annual art exhibit of the Brea grammar schools will be held on the afternoon and evening of May 27 in the kindergarten building of the Laurel grammar school.

Several members of the Oil Workers' union in this district are planning to attend the annual convention of that body, which is to be held in Bakersfield the first week in June.

Death claimed Mrs. Agnes V. Erwin, 60, Thursday morning after an illness of many weeks. Mrs. Erwin had been a resident of Brea for the past six years, living at 252 South Laurel street.

Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon from the McAuley and Euters chapel in Fullerton, with the Rev. William B. Corlett, pastor of the Nazarene church, Brea, officiating. Interment was in Loma Vista. Besides her husband, Charles Erwin, Mrs. Erwin is survived by five sons and three daughters, all of whom reside near here. The sons, all prominent in the oil industry, are Shannon A. of Santa Fe Springs; Orrin L. of Huntington Park; Peter B. of La Habra; Weldon C. of Yorba Linda and Nathan H. of Brea. The daughters are Mrs. E. A. Lightall of Orange, Mrs. C. Hardison of Long Beach and Mrs. H. J. Van Patton of Olinde.

Discarding another of its oldtimers, the Union Oil company this week consigned its Tuffee No. 1 to the group of abandonments for the week, making four in all. The three others were in the Rosecractions are being made by the Laurel Parent-Teacher association to present a comedy farce, "Economic Boomerang," using the money derived in purchasing nourishing food for students of the grammar schools who are unable to purchase same at the luncheon period. The date is to be announced soon.

Incomplete reports are that Edward Fagan, Brea resident, employed with an oil company at Huntington Beach, has had the misfortune to have his right leg broken in four places below the knee and it is said that amputation may have to be resorted to. Mr. Fagan was on the loading rack when a piece of heavy casing rolled on his leg.

Cement foundations have just been completed by the General Petroleum corporation for two new oil derricks. One location is on the Thompson lease east of here and is to be known as Thompson A-1. The other is in Tonner canyon and is designated as Tonner 1-A, an offset for the No. 2 well. Construction of these derricks began yesterday, with Bird & Allen in charge.

With no official entry in the orange show now in progress at Anaheim, Brea has succeeded in making herself conspicuous by the several displays made by the individual concerns in the industrial tent. The Brea Air club has a booth there containing an interesting display, the attendants wearing the white suits of the bill will occupy the same position at the next session that it does now. You understand that the next session will still be a part of the present congress, and that a bill that goes over from the present session to the next occupies the same position in a parliamentary sense that it does now. It loses none of its advantages. It may be that conditions will change. It may be that something will happen to the program and there may be an opening. No one can tell at the present writing, but the indications are that no such opening will present itself. Of one thing you can rest assured. Senator Johnson will lose no opportunity to do the best he can in securing the passage of the bill, and I will improve every opportunity that ever presents itself to me to assist in every way possible.

Mixed in this fight is also Muscle Shoals. A sort of tentative program has been outlined, which includes farm relief legislation, and the financial bill reported from the banking and currency committee, known as the McFadden banking bill. Some other measures of minor importance are also on the program, and while this program is not conclusive, it nevertheless has behind it the approval of the so-called leaders and managers. Their program may be and sometimes can be, overturned, but you understand that there is a class of votes consisting of quite a large number, that always follow this program, and in a close contest, they are always sufficient to decide the result.

Want to Get Away

The farm relief measures will undoubtedly consume considerable time, as will also this banking bill. One-third of the senators are going into campaigns, and most of them have very bitter contests. As a rule they are in favor of adjourning early. There is another class of senators who want to adjourn simply to get away. The next 10 days or two weeks may cast some light on the parliamentary situation. About all I can say to you is that Senator Johnson and his friends, like myself, will consult and advise and try to do the thing that seems to give the best prospects of success.

With kindest regards, I am,
Sincerely,
G. W. NORRIS.

club. In the auto tent, the Morse scout plane, being displayed by Leland Miles, local aviator and instructor in flying, is attracting a great deal of attention. In the booth of the American Legion post No. 181 its members proudly display the big German minnewerfer awarded this post last year. Bennett's Radio shop also has an attractive booth, so that Brea need not feel entirely left out of the show this year.

Mrs. Madeline Cone entertained a small group of friends Thursday afternoon in honor of the birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. Stickney, who is visiting her from her home in Long Beach. Those present were Mesdames Salveson, Ball, Sayles, Jarvis, Allen, Winchell, Gurel, Olmstead, Mrs. Cone sr., the hostess and the honoree. Mrs. Stickney received several lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Tremaine are receiving a visit from Mr. Tremaine's brother, Fred Tremaine, and family who live near Trinidad, Colo. They arrived Thursday. The brothers have not met for 14 years. Mr. Tremaine and his family expect to make California their home.

Using a diamond drill rotary, the Hern-Hunter well on the Wagner lease is well under way, being now about 2500 feet. The well is located near the junction of the Brea and Olinde boulevards.

Several members of the Pythian Sisters and their guests enjoyed a 500 card party in Craig's hall Thursday evening. Prizes were awarded and light refreshments served.

The annual Sunday school picnic of the Christian churches of Orange county is to be held in Orange County park on May 22, and members of the local church are looking forward eagerly to that day. Basket lunches are to be taken. A fine program has been arranged for the earlier hours of the day and the afternoon will be devoted to field sports.

A splendid time is reported from the American Legion dance given in Craig's hall Friday night. Music was furnished by Mrs. Albert Rollins' four-piece orchestra. First prize for the waltz went to Mr. and Mrs. Sid Potter, while the first prize for the balloon dance was awarded to Mrs. Frank Lane. The dance was given under the direction of Mrs. Freda Ward, chairman of the dance committee.

Here are Two Callers!

—one, your "Local Merchant," comes in the evening—timely—catalogs a list of desirable offerings at attractive prices and offers immediate delivery, backed by his local organization of people, some of whom are, perhaps, your friends and neighbors who live next door.

—one, just a "bell ringing peddler," calls at all sorts of inopportune hours, brings only samples, glittering promises and a desire to separate you from the advance deposit—asking you to WAIT for delivery and not caring whether he ever sees you again, and usually don't.

CONSIDER your Local Merchant. His business is a part of your city's industrial fabric that makes your home and income possible. He is a local taxpayer, employing hundreds of other taxpayers. Your interests are his interests.

HE buys merchandise as cheaply as it is possible for it to be produced, and passes on to you the savings he obtains through sales volume, made possible by serving you satisfactorily over long years.

HIS merchandise is reliable. He constantly tells you so thru his "daily caller," his advertisement, and he is here, ready and willing at all times, to prove its reliability by making good any slight dissatisfaction you may have. But you rarely have dissatisfaction with his merchandise.

HE is a "Community Asset," offering a necessary service in merchandise distribution at the lowest possible cost. There can be NO EXCEPTION to this rule. Competition regulates it beyond the control of any individual or organization.

HE deserves all your patronage.

CONSIDER also the "bell ringing peddler." He is almost a Community parasite. His business would not even be possible except for the fact that, thru the years, your solid, Local Merchant has won your confidence in all merchandising methods by never taking advantage of you. The "bell ringing peddler" trades wholly and absolutely upon your confidence.

THIS "peddler," who usually retains all of your initial deposit as his "commission," can, and does, make all sorts of extravagant promises about his merchandise, which "may" come up to his samples; will insist on the "great savings(?)" for you, knowing such savings are hardly possible after his "commission," plus the general agent's "rake-off," plus factory profit and cost of production are taken into consideration.

HIS only solid recommendation, as a rule, is his ability to "sell you" into believing all his claims are true. He doesn't have to make good on his promises and isn't available if you have trouble with his merchandise.

—as between your solid "Local Merchant" and the itinerant "bell ringing peddler," your choice, for your own protection, is obvious!

PRISONERS FACE HORRIBLE TORTURE AS CONVICT SHIP SAILS FOR JUNGLE ISLE

PRISONERS FACE HORRIBLE TORTURE AS CONVICT SHIP SAILS FOR JUNGLE ISLE

France for the first time in two years has sent a shipload of prisoners to Devil's Island, French Guiana, that Captain Dreyfus made notorious. Because of its stifling climate, disease-infested jungles and desolate location, convicts call the camp "the living death." Above is La Martinique, the ship that carried them to tropical America, and below, views of the embarkation at La Rochelle, France. Notice the types of gray-haired men, negroes, smiling peasants, some of them mere boys. Among them is Gabriel Mourey, a New York butler, who robbed his employer in Paris. "I'll be back in New York in two years," Mourey threatened, on sailing.

that cannot be endured very long, and the hottest head is soon reduced to reason by this means.

Men Scalded Alive
Night and day armed guards are constantly walking up and down between the cages. Provision, says the writer, has been made against "conspiracy" among the convicts. It is indeed, a pretty provision, no less than scalding men alive with steam from the boiler house. Supreme measures must be taken to meet any chance that may arise.

There is no question here of applying that general cold drenching of sea-water of which people have heard. All that has to be done is to unscrew a simple screw in the roof of the cages, and the steam from the engine room pours in swirling and boiling. Strong shutters take the place of a canvas awning, and are closed upon an opening in the deck with a turn of the hand. When they are reopened a quarter of an hour later . . .

TRIPOLI VISIT OF MUSSOLINI IS CRITICIZED

PARIS, May 18.—Signor Mussolini's visit to Tripoli has provoked a good deal of comment here.

During the debate on the naval estimates in the senate, references were made by several speakers to Signor Mussolini's declarations in regard to Italy's position in the Mediterranean and "her future on the sea."

M. Raberit, rapporteur, said that France "needed a free Mediterranean to communicate with north Africa," and M. Kerguezec, president of the naval committee of the senate, said, "We wish to see in peace the great nation that Italy is in the Mediterranean is large enough for both."

Finally, M. Georges Lewgues, the minister of marine said, "There is nothing more international in the world than the maritime domain. It belongs to everybody. Nobody has the right to say, 'This sea is mine.'"

The Temps regards the development as a natural result of the completion of the task of Fascism in home affairs and the need for other food for Fascist enthusiasm.

"The greatness of Italy abroad must be the force of events, imposed itself as the result of the occupation of the Fascist party from the moment when its power is solidly established in the interior."

Asks Pointed Questions
The Temps seeks, however, for more precise answers to the question of Italian expansion. "How far and by what means does the new Italy intend to carry her of for on the African shores? It is rather striking that Mussolini's visit to Tripoli coincided with the publication, in the English press, of an Anglo-Italian agreement, defining more exactly the economic rights of the two countries in Abyssinia. It is a question in the ally of delimiting spheres of influence. But London and Rome have no right to forget that there is a treaty concluded in 1906 between Great Britain France and Italy that defines the interests of each of these powers in Abyssinia and that cannot be modified without the consent of all the signatories."

The Temps also points out that Abyssinia, as a member of the League of Nations, can appeal for protection against any enterprise calculated to injure her political or economic independence. At the same time, Italian troops have been landed to complete the occupation of the north of Italian Somaliland.

Necessity of Expansion
"All this activity," says the Temps, "confirms the determination of the Rome government to attract the most serious attention of the Italian people to the necessity of colonial expansion," though it welcomes assurances in the Italian press that the aim is to develop the relations between Italy and her colonies and therefore, not to menace anybody."

The Temps concludes with the observation that the development of this policy of expansion must be watched closely for it will certainly have profound reactions on general European policy. Italy cannot agree to Germany having a colonial mandate until she herself has had full satisfaction in that regard and this attitude squares with Italy's opposition to German interests in Central Europe and the tendency for French and Italian interests to coincide both in the Mediterranean and on the continent, which it would be dangerous for either country to ignore.

THUGS SLAY MAN; FIANCEE ESCAPES
SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Louis Lyons, 25, was shot and killed and his fiancée, Miss Lena Hines, narrowly escaped death when two youthful holdup men showered their car with bullets yesterday.

One prisoner was taken by police. He is Harry Rosenfeld, 18, who came to San Francisco several days ago from Los Angeles. Police believe he was one of the two, but were unable to determine whether he fired the fatal shot.

Lyons, accompanied by Miss Hines, was driving in an outer district of San Francisco—near the cemetery. A car, speeding from behind them, forced Lyons to turn into the curb. Two men jumped out and started to drag Lyons into the street, shooting him down when he resisted.

Three patrolmen, attracted by the girl's screams, arrived in time to see the thugs fleeing.

Miss Hines was taken to a hospital in a state of collapse. She said she was to have married Lyons in August.

IVANHOE—Sir Walter Scott's Classic in Pictorial Form

DE BRACY AND BOIS-GUILBERT, AT THE HEAD OF THEIR MEN, PROCEEDED WITH THEIR CAPTIVES UNTIL THEY CAME TO TORGUILLSTONE, FEUDAL CASTLE OF SIR REGINALD FRONT-DE-BOEUF. THERE THE PARTY ENTERED AND THE PRISONERS WERE ASSIGNED TO VARIOUS APARTMENTS.

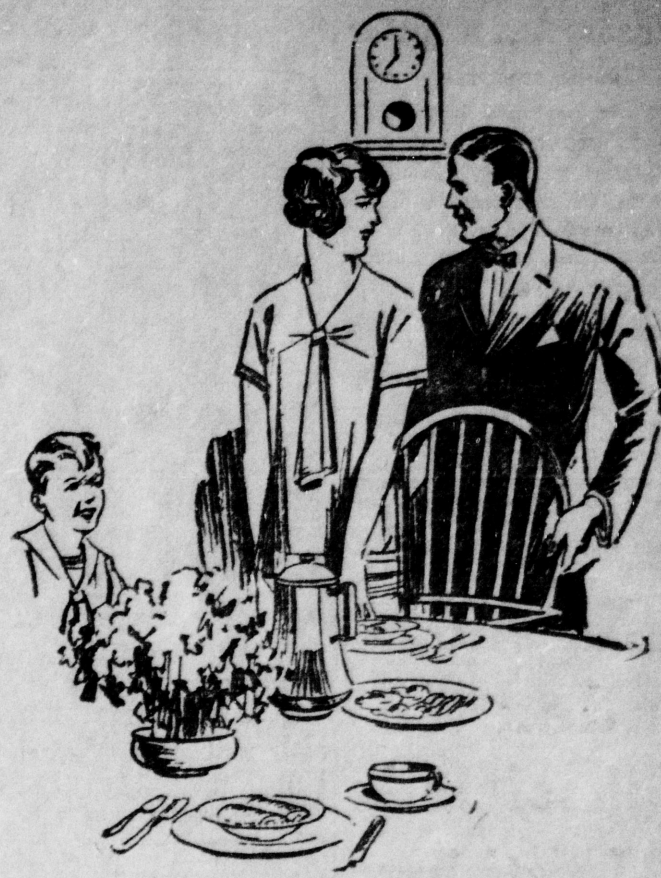

EDRIG AND ATHELSTANE WERE TOGETHER, AND WHILE EDRIG FUMED AT HIS IMPRISONMENT AND WONDERED AT WHAT RANSOM THEY WERE BEING HELD FOR, ATHELSTANE SEEMED MORE CONCERNED ABOUT THE STATE OF HIS STOMACH. FOR HE WAS VERY HUNGRY. FINALLY MASKED SERVANTS CAME, BEARING FOOD.

EDRIG TOLD THEM THERE WAS NO NEED FOR DISGUISE—HE KNEW THEY WERE SERVANTS OF FRONT-DE-BOEUF, AND ATHELSTANE DELIVERED A CHALLENGE TO MORTAL COMBAT TO THEIR MASTER. MEANWHILE, POOR ISAAC OF YORK, SEPARATED FROM HIS DAUGHTER, REBECCA, HAD BEEN THROWN IN THE CASTLE'S DUNGEON VAULT.

CHAINS AND SHACKLES WERE ABOUT, AND AT ONE END OF THE GHOSTLY ROOM WAS A LARGE FIRE GRATE, OVER WHICH WERE STRETCHED SOME TRANSVERSE BARS, UNQUESTIONABLY AN INSTRUMENT OF TORTURE. THE WHOLE APPEARANCE OF THE PLACE MIGHT HAVE DAUNTED A STOUTER HEART THAN ISAAC'S. SOON FRONT-DE-BOEUF ENTERED, WITH TWO BARACEN SLAVES.

The meal that starts the morning makes the mood that rules the day—

Just a single dish for breakfast—an appetizing, satisfying dish. A single dish, but a good one. Shredded Wheat and strawberries—good to see and good to eat; good for health and good to make the mood for a busy day of work.

There's energy in Shredded Wheat—enough to keep your strength at full tide.

Shredded Wheat is whole wheat, nothing added, nothing taken away. It's the whole golden grain, simply steam-cooked, shredded and toasted for your convenience. Vitamins, proteins and other needed food elements—all are there; and bran! not too much, but just enough, exactly as Nature proportioned it. That's the secret of the body-building value of this sensible breakfast dish.

Tomorrow—Shredded Wheat and strawberries!

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS

Young Housekeeper—One of the best things to have in bathroom or kitchen is course table salt to be used on your hands after washing and drying them. The salt keeps the skin soft and removes most of the stains that result from handling fruit and vegetables, or even the grime that gets into the skin from housework. You can use it as often as you wish, every time you are through with the work that soils your hands very much. If your hands are inclined to get red or chapped the salt rubs will prevent it.

After the weather is warmer, you probably will not need to take this extra care of your hands, as your skin will be more active, and will be caring for itself through the natural secretions. Bob White—if you can stand having your hair combed back severely from the forehead it will be very distinctive, as few women have a good enough hairline to do this. You may find it more difficult if you comb from one side of the forehead instead of making straight backward strokes. This does not mean that you make a part anywhere, as you merely stroke from one or the other side of the forehead in a diagonal line.

Mrs. J. G.—No woman should look many years older than she is, as you say you do, unless there is some physical disorder to account for it. Even so there are the remedies, and nature builds again when given the chance. To look 60 at 40 means nothing else but a need for help other than beauty treatments. Stop thinking about it, as nothing makes any one look so old as when one feels old. Consult your doctor to find out if you are all right, and then begin on the building side, and swing back 20 years. Live out in the air or sleep out in it. Garden if you can, or tramp in the country, and eat less of the fattening foods and more of the fresh spring vegetables. Fresh air, out door exercise with some interest to it, as in gardening, exploring new places, or a sport, will make any one years younger in appearance. In a few weeks your skin will freshen and tighten, that the lines will go, as well as the flabbiness under your chin. Massage your skin with a good cream or olive oil, in addition to building up, and watch for the improvement. Tomorrow—A New Bath Lotion

DIVORCE LEADS INTO FIRE FROM MARITAL FRYING PAN

By CYNTHIA GREY
The critics against divorce are at it again. They have used up their opprobrious names for it and are coining new ones. It is now known as the "great American disease." Somehow, divorce itself doesn't shock or frighten me. If it were a cure for unhappiness in marriage, I should applaud and ask for more of it. In those cases where it is a release from intolerable conditions, I heartily approve of it.

But the faces of divorced women I know worry me. They don't look happy. They look even more restless and neurotic than the wives who wish they were divorced. There is something hungry and lost and groping about them.

After all, divorce can't wipe out a marriage. It destroys the legal and social status of the relationship, but it cannot touch the poignant associations, the remnants of emotion, the force of old habit that the marriage has built up.

Husband and wife cannot step out of the carefree, inviolate personalities that they were before the marriage. They must carry an Albatross of dead memories hanging about their necks, to hamper their ventures in future happiness.

Nearly always, even the most disillusioned woman or man is ready to try it again—in fact, eager to find a partner. They are not willing to face life alone, after the experience of the marriage relation.

Children or Careers

This is one of a series of articles by noted women on the subject, "Children or Careers."

By DOROTHY WALWORTH CARMAN

I wrote my first novel, "Faith of Our Fathers" when my baby was teething, and my second novel, "The Pride of the Town" when she was tearing down hills in her kiddie car in danger of life and limb.

I would have written, even with four babies, because I wanted to hard enough and we always do what we really want, after all. It meant I must organize my days as nearly to schedule as a housewife and mother ever can. I learned not to be sensitive to atmosphere and to write in any posture.

I learned to make the thread of my thought so tough that it could not be broken by any interruption. I wrote when I was tired, when my head ached, whenever there was opportunity for even a sentence. I thought of my writing when I was dusting and peeling potatoes, so as to write faster when my chance came.

Although my days are full, I am no more fatigued than anyone else, and I am happier than any woman I know. A career is good for the disposition. It makes a woman feel she is not entirely relegated to one atmosphere, fills the unsatisfied nooks and crannies of her life with interest, keeps her young, and cures incipient cases of nerves.

If a woman wants to badly

Menus for the Family

By SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Grape fruit, cereal, thin cream, baked eggs, crisp bran toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Rice and cheese fondue, raisin bread, brown sugar cookies, milk, tea.

Dinner—Broiled salmon steak, lemon butter, creamed new potatoes, buttered string beans, strawberry shortcake, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

One cup of flour will make enough dough to make shortcake for two persons. With this in mind it's quite easy to gauge the requirements for a larger number. This means of course the old-fashioned shortcake using bliscuit dough. A square of sponge cake covered with a tablespoonful of crushed berries and a "dab" of whipped cream is not honest-to-goodness shortcake.

Rice and Cheese Fondue
Three-fourths cup grated cheese, 1 1-2 cups cooked rice, 1 1-2 cups milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon mustard, 4 eggs.

Mix salt and mustard thoroughly with cheese. Add rice and milk and blend. Stir in yolks of eggs well beaten. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Turn into a buttered baking dish and put into a pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Serve as soon as the fondue is firm.

Flaked fish, minced ham or chicken or a vegetable can be used in place of the cheese. One cup rather than three-quarters should be used. This is an excellent dish for small children.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

SAVE YOUR BLANKETS

If you will make end covers of muslin or cheesecloth for quilts and blankets you can keep them freshly laundered, with less wear and tear on the bedding than if the whole article must be cleaned so frequently.

EXTRA CLOSET SPACE

When closet room is at a premium, a shoe bag which covers the whole inside of the closet gives much extra space, and keeps your shoes off the floor.

SANDWICH FILLING

Equal parts of cream cheese and apricot pulp made by passing stewed apricots through a sieve, put together with mayonnaise dressing makes a delicious sandwich filling. If you add a few chopped nuts it is richer and more festive.

TO HOWARD THURSTON AND HARRISON L. DAVIES

I know two men of magic, who deceive,

And by deception win men's love and praise,

By false illusions which they deftly weave

They lead us back to childhood's rosy days;

They cheat the eye with cunning and with skill,

We know they trick us, but we love them still.

Harrison Davies, do you mind the day

We sat with Howard Thurston breaking bread?

Three of us world-worn travelers on the way,

You doing tricks with coins and bits of thread;

Thurston, the master, smiling down on you,

Pleased as a boy with all that you can do.

I watched you both and could not understand,

But in your magic there was more than skill,

More than deftness of your clever hand,

More than the trick which seemed to do your will;

There was that magic which could banish care,

Touch an old heart and leave a youngster there.

I know you tricked me; I know it could not be;

Know that you did not do what you professed,

I know I saw just what you'd have me see,

But, oh, by such deception men are blessed!

Thanks for that magic which can banish pain

And make a tired old grownup young again.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

NO. 14—CAP'N PENNYWINKLE HAS A BUSY DAY

The whale winked one eye at Nancy and the other eye at Nick and then wiggled his tail.

"I'm sorry you have lost your shadow, Whiffet!" said Cap'n Pennywinkle, when he had turned his traffic sign at the corner of Shell Avenue and Shell Boulevard at the bottom of the sea.

"I'll help you to find it if I can, but the trouble is that when shadows jump into the water, they change their shapes and yours might look like anything from a plate of pancakes to a stick of candy. Just wait and I'll ask this whale."

The little traffic policeman turned his sign and the whale stopped. "Did you see a lost shadow anywhere on your travels?" asked Cap'n Pennywinkle.

The whale winked one eye at Nancy and the other eye at Nick and then he wiggled his tail. "No, you don't!" chuckled he. "I've heard many a queer story in my day, but nothing as silly as that. Ta, ta!"

And off he went laughing so hard that ten butter-fish and six mullets had to fly fairly out of his way. A sea-cucumber, sitting on the curbstone, laughed so hard at this that he got the hiccoughs dreadfully.

Then along came a lobster and hit him on the back with his great claw.

The sea-cucumber choked and coughed, and what do you think, my dear! Out flew his stomach and rolled with a bounce along the sand! Bounce! Bounce! Bounce! said a ball. "You're arrested for assault and battery," shouted Cap'n Pennywinkle to the lobster. "Just see what you've done!"

"Please, sir," piped up the little sea-cucumber who had coughed, "I don't mind it. I never did like that stomach anyway. It was too little. I'll have a new one in ten minutes. Besides, just look! The lobster has lost his big claw!"

"What's that?" cried the lobster, looking down. "Lost my claw?"

"What's that?" cried the lobster, looking down. "Lost my claw?"

"What's that?" cried the lobster, looking down. "Lost my claw?"

"What's that?" cried the lobster, looking down. "Lost my claw?"

"What's that?" cried the lobster, looking down. "Lost my claw?"

The WOMAN'S DAY

by Allene Sumner

Name It

Naming babies, yachts, private cars, camps, dogs, cats, canoes, has been made into a profitable business by a Miss Laura Lee Rogers, whose official title is "nomenclator."

Which only proves that it's getting an idea that counts! In every town and on every city street is at least one woman who "has a knack for thinking up fancy names for twins and things."

But it remained for one woman to capitalize this "knack." The thousands of women who want to be business successes can start in no better way than taking inventory of self, then hanging out the shingle about their own special talent.

The Nest

"It only we could forget a little about so much loving!" So calls the husband in a new story called "The Nest" by Anne Sedgewick, author of "The Little French Girl."

Tale of a husband told he has but one month to live, and of the wife who surrenders him with love and attention in that month, until he wants to die. The specialist is wrong and life looks not so black when the wife lets life resume its normal tenor.

She Says

"When public opinion shut up every woman in the walls of her own house and home, it thwarted and deformed and embittered many strong and vigorous personalities, and turned many homes into hells. What was thoroughly objectionable in that state of things was not the dictum that married women should always stay home, but the idea that public opinion should presume to lay down the law indiscriminately about that detail."

—Dorothy Canfield.

"Ettiket"

In Cairo, friends meeting one another, bow and say "How do you sweat?" successful sweating meaning well-being in Cairo. The Dutch idea of inquiring about the real joy of their friends is to say "May you eat a hearty dinner!" But in this the correct response to an introduction is a bow, smile, handshake, perhaps, and the one phrase of "How do you do?"

Can't See Everything!

The modern child, warning that if she is not good she will not go to heaven, is very apt to answer calmly, "Well, I've been to the zoo and the circus and can't go everywhere!" This according to a warning issued by Dr. C. W. Kimmins, child authority, who tells modern parents that children are smarter than they are, and that deceit, exaggeration, and funny stuff gets a parent nowhere with a child!

Home Sweet Home!

A frameless Venetian panel mirror between the second and third window of a series of three front apartment windows is very pleasing. Small rugs in living rooms are rather dangerous, breaking up the effect of spaciousness. They are best between rooms, in halls, and to accentuate special pieces of furniture by being placed in front of them.

SAVES CLEANERS' BILLS

When you hang your light party dresses away always cover them with a muslin cover or bag to prevent soil.

PIRATES, ATHLETICS NEAR TOP IN MAJORS

BILLY EVANS Says

ROOKIE INFELD

Many of the experts are inclined to the belief that the inexperience of the Detroit infield will prove a serious handicap to the Tigers' chances.

When the season opened the veterans, Lu Blue and Frank O'Rourke, were at first and second. Playing short was the brilliant Jackie Tavener with a year's experience, while at third was Warner, who made an auspicious debut last fall.

Inside of two weeks illness and injuries had changed the entire personnel of the Tigers' inner defense.

Instead of an infield balanced with a couple of old heads, it was a combination made up of young players, none with more than a year's big league experience.

Neun at first Gehring at second, Tavener at short and Warner at third was the lineup of the Detroit infield.

NECESSARY ASSET

It has long been an accepted baseball truth that a pennant-contender must have a well-rounded, experienced infield.

When sudden shifts caused a decided change in the makeup of the Tigers, some of the experts, who had predicted big things for Detroit, began to hedge.

Just what to do with the ball in a crisis is always a stumbling point for the young infielder. It has been a handicap which the Tigers have labored under and naturally it has cost a number of games.

However, there is no better way to discover the possibilities of a recruit than make him a regular, give him the big chance.

While Manager Cobb no doubt realizes it will cost him many a ball game, still it is the only way to develop players and the Tigers have reached the stage where such action is necessary.

GREAT PROMISE

Of the youthful infield that has been doing its stuff for Detroit, Gehring and Warner are really the only recruits. Johnny Neun and Tavener have already established themselves as big leaguers.

I regard both Gehring and Warner as mighty fine prospects. Naturally they have their faults, like all newcomers, but the ability to deliver appears to be there.

Gehring reminds me of Hans Wagner in the field. Built along the lines of Wagner, he has the same loose, galloping style that made Honus one of the greatest stars of the game.

A left-handed hitter, Gehring takes a healthy cut at the ball and has a free swing that should get results once he learns his pitchers.

Warner's play of Warner at third has been erratic at times, he seems to have style and class that will eventually reward the Detroit club if it goes along with him.

CASE OF PECK

Every recruit must go through a certain period of his career in which lack of experience will prove a serious handicap.

Take the case of "Buddy" Myer, rookie shortstop of the Washington club. He is a classy looking recruit, certain to make good, but like all others he must pass through a baptism of fire before he is replaced.

In the early games this spring he replaced the veteran Peckington, a job of it. Yet it was apparent to me that the famous Washington infielder lacked some of the smoothness that featured his play with Peck at short.

When Peck returned to the game the perfect cohesion returned. Not that Peck is so much better than Myer but simply because he knows how to play the rival batters and his teammates have a confidence in him that can be traced back to the experience of his play.

SHORT SPORTS

NEW YORK—Tom O'Rourke, veteran promoter, announced that he had offered Jack Dempsey $1,000,000 to fight Harry Wills. Since the champion is under contract to Tex Rickard, it is doubtful if the offer will be considered.

SAN FRANCISCO—The annual Pacific Coast Conference track and field championship meet will be abandoned in the future for a new meet in which all colleges west of the Rockies will be eligible to compete, conference officials announced. The new event will be known as the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate track and field meet.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY—Northwestern University has two track teams in the L. C. A. A. meet at Harvard university May 28 and 29. A team from the University of California is now on its way east, where it will enter the L. C. A. A. meet following a meet with Princeton while Stanford university has just announced it will enter a 15-man team in the Harvard competition.

40 CANDIDATES OUT FOR POLY GRID WORKOUT

First call for spring football practice at Santa Ana high school was answered by approximately 40 candidates for next year's varsity eleven last night when Coach "Chuck" Winterburn put the athletes through a light workout.

Those reporting for the drill were divided into three squads by Coach Winterburn. Five of the plays used last year were explained.

Last season's arrangement whereby the varsity and the weight teams employed the same style of attack even to the degree of using the same signals and plays has proven an important aid in getting the practice under way.

Except for one or two of the regulars, most of the men who will be in the line when Coach "Tex" Oliver takes charge here next fall reported for the first spring workout. Harvey Durke, Guy Harvey and Ralph Selway were not out but they were expected to join the ranks this afternoon.

Coach Winterburn said that lack of experience will be the most serious handicap the team will face next season.

"There are a lot of positions to be filled," Winterburn said, "and there'll be the chance for new men to make good."

Only four lettermen, Captain Millen, Siegel, Selway and Guy Harvey, will be eligible. A number of players from the substitute ranks and weight team will bid for varsity berths and it is likely that the Santa Ana squad will be augmented by new men coming here from the other sections during the summer, as has been the case year after year.

When Coach Winterburn lined up the men last night, he picked men to make the first tentative squad. Frank Hilligass was at quarter, Bono Koral was at full and Harvey Bear and Fred Foslwick were the halfbacks. The line included Clet Siegel at center, John Gallagher and John Casey at guards, Captain Dean Millen and Fred Musick at tackles and Francis Harvey and Jack Blakeney at ends.

Don Smith and Lloyd Mander-shield called the signals for the other squads.

The teams were paraded up and down the turf field, working simple plays and occasionally passing the ball. The operations went with an expected awkwardness for early drill but the semblance of last year's teamwork was apparent.

TIERNAN KIDS BLANK FLUORS. NAB 4 IN ROW

If any doubts about the speed and class of the Tiernan Typewriter company's team may have ranked the minds of Santa Ana indoor baseball fans they were dispelled when the headless youths whacked the Fluor Construction company, 5 to 0, in one of the best played contests of the City League season at Lincoln park last night. It was the fourth consecutive win for the Tiernan kids.

The Constructionists presented an imported battery—Johnson and Rasmussen—the pair that burned up the Southern California league last year and gave Whittier a championship. This was the first game Johnson has worked in almost a year but he gave the Tiernans a lot of trouble, nevertheless, and it took all the dash and fire that the typewriter kids had to beat him.

Tom Hitt, the tall high school boy, wasn't fazed at all by the fact that he was hurling against one of the premier submariners in the Southland. Hitt subdued the Fluors with six hits and in striking out 12 of his opponents retired as many that way as did Johnson. Hitt had better support than Johnson and when the headless youths got on base they ran the bases as daringly and so intelligently that they were almost a cinch to get clear around.

"Rudy" Romo, the speedy Tiernan left shortstopper, was especially potent to the Fluors. He drew a walk the first time up in the first and went all the way around on wild pitches. He led off in the fourth by beating out a bunt, went to second on an out and scored on Preble's hit. Preble also made the circuit before the side was retired. The last two Tiernan runs were made in the seventh by Bell, who drew a walk, and Holmes, who singled.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CLUB TO OPEN COUNTY LEAGUE AT HOME; LEGION WILL TRAVEL

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce team will have the honor of playing in Santa Ana when the Orange County Indoor Baseball league opens Friday night, May 28, according to a complete schedule released today by "Eeny" Wilcox, league representative. The American Legion, this city's other entrant in the first circuit, will travel to Fullerton for its opening contest, it was disclosed.

BORAH. SPRINT PHENOM. WILL RACE IN EAST

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—The Pacific Coast's newest sprinter who threatens to become the world's greatest short distance runner is going to perform in the East next July, according to an announcement by Dean Cromwell, coach of the University of Southern California track team.

He is Charley Borah, U.S.C. freshman, who finished less than six inches behind Charley Paddock here last Saturday when Paddock set a new world record of 9.5 seconds for the 100 yard dash.

Cromwell declared he would enter Borah in the senior national championships at Philadelphia in July. At the same time he challenged Paddock to enter the meet.

If Paddock consents, easterners can expect to see one of the greatest 100 yard dashes in history. Borah gained a great deal of confidence in himself by his showing here Saturday. Cromwell emphatically declared today that Borah will break every record Paddock ever made.

Cities entering teams in the race are Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange, Laguna Beach, Brea, Garden Grove and Santa Ana.

The schedule follows:

LILLIAN CANNON

BALTIMORE, Md., May 18.—Lillian Cannon, 23, blond, and a whale of a swimmer, as they say down here in the Chesapeake bay country, is going to match her skill and strength against the 20 miles or so of treacherous water between Cape Gris-Nez and Dover.

Miss Cannon, in other words, is preparing to swim the English channel—the supreme test of a swimmer.

If she is successful, she will be the first woman to turn the trick. The channel conquered Gertrude Ederle last August. It has conquered every other woman who has dared it, and out of hundreds of men who have tried it only a very few have been successful.

CLIMB OF TWO CONTENDERS IS RACE FEATURE

Pittsburgh Pitchers Lead Team from Low Position Into First Division

By PAUL W. WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 18.—The rise of the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Philadelphia Athletics, after a bad start, is one of the features of the baseball season's second month.

The Pirates, once more getting adequate pitching, although they have as yet to bat anywhere near their accustomed form, are in fourth place in the National league, and are only five games behind the leading Cincinnati team with a .500 percentage.

Two nerve-racking games with the second place Brooklynites tested the mettle of the world's champions. In one the Pirates held the Robins to a tie and yesterday came through with a 7 to 6 victory in a 12-inning encounter. The early part of the season saw the Pirates losing those close ones.

Probably the choice of a major-league pitchers before the season opened, the Athletics are plugging away behind the Yankees and Senators, with but three games separating them from a tie for the lead. With "Lefty" Grove and Jack Quinn pitching superbly and with the early batting slump virtually eradicated, the Athletics can be counted on to furnish worthy opposition.

If the Mackmen and Senators are to prosper, however, some way must be found to dispose of the Yankees, who are sticking on top as if they expected to remain. Yesterday, although outlit, 10 to 8, they won their sixth straight by conquering the White Sox, 5 to 3. The Yankees have had the valuable knack of hitting heavily when necessary.

This is the first May 18 in many years that has found the Giants out of the first division.

S. A. MAN GETS BIG GOLDEN FIN CROAKER

Porter Edmunds, Santa Ana rancher, today was accredited with making the largest surf catch so far this fishing season. The golden fin croaker, caught late Sunday at Mateo, near the lower end of Capistrano beach, weighed eight pounds and was but one of a fine haul of corbina, golden fin croaker and spot. The catch was made by Edmunds, Otto McClure and Victor Walker, who were in the party.

Local anglers report that surf fishing is now excellent at many points along the Orange county coast. Henry Probst, Southern California Edison company employe, caught more than 20 good sized fish over the past week-end.

Laguna Pitcher Offered Tryout With Salt Lake

"Barney" Hodges, star Laguna Beach pitcher, can join the Salt Lake City club of the new Utah-Idaho league—if he wants to.

Victor Walker, local sporting goods dealer, received a communication from the Salt Lake team today which was to the effect that the Utes would offer a contract to a first class hurler from this district and Walker promptly recommended Hodges.

The Laguna Beach pitcher, suffering from a sprained hand, was defeated for the first time this season last Sunday, losing an exhibition game to Costa Mesa, 8 to 5. Walker has requested Hodges to communicate with him if interested in the Salt Lake tryout.

Piping 'Em Off

Yesterday's Hero—Paul Waner, whose triple in the 11th paved the way to the Pirates' 7 to 6 victory over Brooklyn.

The Giants rallied in the eighth and made four runs, defeating Cincinnati, 7 to 4.

The Yankees hit at crucial moments to beat the White Sox 5 to 3.

After the first inning the Athletics were held scoreless but the danger had been done and they beat Detroit, 5 to 1.

Nineteen hits off three Washington pitchers gave the Indians a 13 to 5 victory.

The Cubs rallied in the sixth and beat the Phillies, 3 to 2, putting them in a tie for second place. Moikan had thrust the Phillies ahead by a homer with two men on in the eighth.

CALLAHAN FAVORITE TO TRIM GOODRICH

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—Mushy Callahan was the favorite today over Jimmy Goodrich, former lightweight champion of the world, in their 10-round bout at Vernon tonight.

The home town boy won a decision over Goodrich in the same ring a month ago and on the form chart there is no reason why he should not repeat.

Three 10-round bouts are on the program tonight.

Tony Fuentes, Mexican heavyweight, will meet Pat Lester in the bout that precedes the main event.

ADAMS LANDS JOB

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—Harold "Hobbs" Adams, captain of the University of Southern California football team last year, has been appointed coach of the Monrovia high school. Adams was selected as an all-coast end. He began his football career at the San Diego high school.

SCHOOL NEWS

Parent-Teachers

Lowell
When the Lowell school P.-T. A. met for the final meeting of the year Thursday, election of officers took place. Mrs. Charles M. Best, who has served as president for one year, was returned to that office. The other officers elected were as follows: First vice-president, Mrs. Frank Hammett; second vice-president, Mrs. H. H. Allen; treasurer, Mrs. Wm. Hutton; secretary, Miss Elizabeth Parslow; financial secretary, Mrs. C. C. Stewart; auditor, Mrs. W. W. Cudworth; parliamentarian, Mrs. H. G. Lyeon.

The association voted to give financial aid in keeping a child at the health camp this summer.

The program of the day began with a demonstration lesson in singing by the third grade. Mothers marvelled at the ability in eight singing of the little folk. Teresa and Dorothy Bement delighted the audience with a piano and mandolin duet.

The speaker of the day was Mrs. Frances Beeson, supervisor of public school music, and she chose to speak about the method of teaching music appreciation to children in the early grades. Mrs. Beeson stressed the importance of music in the home as being a vital factor in binding the ties of the home, and urged that children be given every possible advantage in acquiring the love and knowledge of music. A surprise was in store for many present when Mrs. Beeson played three of her own charming compositions.

Mrs. Best expressed the regret of the association that three members of the teaching staff will not return to Lowell next year. Miss Lois Sweet and Miss Mamie Granholm plan to be married, while Miss Margaret Clark expects to study at Columbia university, New York.

John Muir
The final meeting of John Muir P.T. A. was held at the schoolhouse with a good attendance. The gathering was presided over by Mrs. Ray Wyckoff and was opened with music by the John Muir Junior orchestra, the pride of the school.

The president called attention to the new curtain on the stage which has so long been wanted by the school and was finally purchased with money obtained through the carnival held recently. Mrs. Reuter announced that over twenty dollars had been saved by the members making the curtain themselves.

Mrs. Scott announced the P.-T. A. convention to be held at San Bernardino for which special buses have been chartered at rates for the round trip, delegates to take their lunch.

The seven delegates from John Muir school will be Mrs. Brock, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Hickey, Mrs. Luxembourger, Mrs. Whitaker and Mrs. Wyckoff.

G. A. Raymer from the chamber of commerce spoke on the bond election which is to be held soon, asking all the mothers who can give the time, to work so the bonds pass, especially those for parks and playgrounds.

The kindergarten has the picture permanently which was given each month to the room having the most mothers representing it at P.-T. A. meeting. The picture was to be awarded finally to that room having had it most often.

"The Trials of a Worn-out Ford" was put on by the executive board and very much appreciated. "Pa," "Ma" and their "son and daughter" went for a ride but didn't proceed far until Pa was pumping up tires and what with engine trouble and three tires going flat at one time, the trip was finally abandoned. The characters were Mrs. Hickey as "Pa," Mrs. Scott, "Ma," Mrs. Lux, "Jimmy," and Mrs. Whitaker, "Mary." Mrs. Alberts was the engine and Mrs. Wyckoff, Mrs. Luxembourger, Miss Bryant, Mrs. Brock and Mrs. Reuter were the tires.

Diamond
In response to artistic individual invitations issued by the teachers and pupils, a record attendance was enjoyed at the last meeting of the Diamond P.-T. A. on the afternoon of May 13.

The children entertained their parents and friends for nearly an hour with songs by groups, vocal solos, recitations, piano solos, and cunning little dances.

Following the program, lemonade and tea were served in the library after which the children were dismissed and the mothers were again assembled in the principal's room to transact the business of the association, including completion of plans for the basket picnic to be held by the school at Orange County park on June 4, the last day of school.

Grand Ave.
Friday, May 7, was a gala day at Grand avenue school. The shady back lawn with the addition of vine clad lattices bright with gay flowers formed a beautiful garden which was an ideal setting for the May day party of Mother Goose and her children.

The delightful intimate friends of childhood, Mother Hubbard, Bo-Peep, Boy Blue, Miss Muffet, Jack Horner, Jack and Jill, Jolly Humpty Dumpty and other Mother Goose characters in quaint costumes, gathered in the garden beside "The House that Jack Built" made a veritable fairyland picture.

The tiniest children attended the party as grass blades, sweet peas, ladies, poppies, daisies and morning glories, looking like wee fairies with their bright eyes and smiling faces peeping through the petals of their dainty, flower bonnets. Costume drills and songs, also choruses by the entire school were interesting features of the program.

The Boys service club of Frances Willard Junior high school delightfully entertained the children and the audience with several athletic stunts, saxophone solos and vocal selections.

At the close of the program the audience, composed of American friends and mothers and relatives of the children were taken into the kindergarten room to see the exhibit of art and handwork.

The Mexican children are very artistic and their work displayed their talents.

The hand work consisted of woven baskets and bags, drawn work handkerchiefs and towels, embroidered luncheon sets, towels, scarfs and two lovely block quilts having animals outlined in red embroidery thread. More practical articles were dresses, aprons and rompers.

All of the articles were on sale. The sale and silver offering netted quite a nice little sum for which the teachers are very grateful.

The program and display was the culmination of many weeks of work on the part of both teachers and pupils.

As an expression of appreciation for the untiring efforts of the children, the teachers will give them a picnic before the close of school.

Julia Lathrop

Friday, Julia Lathrop held her "at home" or exhibit day. The day opened with an assembly of the student body. After the regular business meeting Mr. Nelson made several announcements and Mrs. Clark, of the W. C. T. U., announced the names of those holding prize essays and plays from the recent contest. Lathrop was most fortunate in winning six of the nine prizes offered. Those winning prizes were Margaret Guard, Arminia

Wilcox, Viola Chapman, Elleen Adams, Leell Slaback and Harry Motley.

Following these announcements an excellent program was presented by Miss Hazel Thrasher and Miss Mary Henderson. The program took the form of a short skit, "The Peanut Stand," representing the Lathrop Citizenship club in its various activities toward bettering conditions about the school and town. It was very cleverly presented and was enthusiastically received by the student body.

During the day visitors were welcomed by reception committees, given programs and invited to attend regular classes and make the rounds of the exhibits. From 3 o'clock until 5 in the afternoon and from 7:30 until 9 the exhibits were open to the public. Some wonderful plays were shown by the various departments and honorable mention made of the worthy ones. The work done in the manual training and domestic science departments lent itself well to display purposes and was indicative of splendid preparation and effort. Other exhibits were equally well worth mentioning, the social science, language, English and mathematical departments had some interesting displays of regular class room work and of special projects.

Annual Picnic

Julia C. Lathrop teachers especially enjoyed the annual picnic at the Orange County park last Monday. This year the picnic was in charge of the Federated P.-T. A. of Santa Ana.

Music Memory Contest.
The Music departments of Santa Ana have been holding a music memory contest in which ten musical numbers are played and those participating in the contest are asked to give the names of the selections. As a prize a bust of Beethoven has been offered.

Another Picnic.
On Friday, May 7 Miss Carother's Art classes enjoyed a picnic at the Orange County park. Leaving at noon and motoring to the park the classes spent the time before supper hiking, rowing, gathering wild flowers and playing games. At 5 o'clock a picnic supper of wieners, buns, salad and cake was served to the crowd of hungry students. These classes and their teacher, Miss Carothers have given untiring service during the year and especially during the All Nation's day preparations that Lathrop feels they deserve a great deal of commendation.

Typing Department.
Lathrop is very proud of her typing department which has also proved to be tireless and uncomplaining in the face of numberless plainings and articles presented at short notice for typing. The members of these classes, under Miss Dorothy Hunt's direction have been taking daily one minute and fifteen minute speed tests working toward increase in speed. Students who have been steadily gaining every day in their net rate of words per minute are Jean Peacock, Gene Smith, Wilma Paterson, Marguerite Owens, Muriel Meserve, Kenneth Lee, Mildred Northern, Roberta Middleton and Jack Melbourne, all having obtained a net rate of 60 words per minute, or above, in one minute tests.

Last Monday, Miss Elizabeth Bruner's and Miss Lota Blythe's low nine English classes held a spirited spelling match under Mrs. Olive Wherry's direction. After spelling the "one hundred demons," words from the various grade tests were used. These spelling matches were held as a preliminary to the general spelling test given on Wednesday. The results of the tests will be placed in downtown windows as examples of both writing and spelling.

FULLERTON, May 18.—The largest real estate deal that has taken place in many months was closed yesterday by the Stein-Strassman Realty company, when Felix Stein handled the sale of the Victor Hualde home place near Brea to A. R. Marson, of Fullerton, for consideration of $300,000.

A large house and a small house in Fullerton were involved in the deal. The houses have a 200-foot frontage at 441 East Commonwealth avenue.

The Victor Hualde home place is part of the estate of Josefa de Hualde, who died last September. The property is made up of 80 acres of highly improved land set out to valencia. On the place is a private packing house valued at $10,000, which is leased to the Randolph Marketing company. The property is located between the Union Oil company's field and the Brea schools.

Mr. McCracken will leave Anaheim the latter part of June for Chicago, when he will appear before James J. Davis, director general of the Moose order. He will receive the degree on July 4.

Only 36 pilgrim degrees of merit have ever been awarded, and Mr. McCracken feels unusually honored in his selection for one of the badges of distinction.

H. B. MAY INSTALL RADIO EQUIPMENT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 18.—The bandstand problem may be solved as it is in Los Angeles and other large cities, it was announced last night by C. G. Boster, president of the board of city trustees. The new plan provides for broadcasting equipment to supply band music to all parts of the city from the city auditorium.

Numerous plans have been suggested as a solution to the band problem here. The situation now confronting the city is that the city has an excellent band but no place for it to play. The bandstand formerly was located on the beach on land owned by the Huntington Beach company. The stand was removed at the request of the Huntington Beach company.

Since the removal of the stand, the paramount question has been where to locate a new bandstand. Some have advocated the beach. Others have declared that a triangular plot of ground north of the city auditorium should be beautified and a stand built on it. It has also been suggested that piling be driven east of the municipal pier and a huge shell erected.

Last night, it was suggested that broadcasting equipment be installed by the city officials. The band could then play in the city auditorium and the music would be broadcasted over the city. The plan provides for horns in the municipal auto camp ground, Seventeenth street park, Circle park and on the beach. The broadcasting equipment would cost about $1200, it was reported by R. E. McIntosh, local electrician. McIntosh will report on other necessary expenditures at the next meeting.

Considerable discussion was also held over the condition of the city sewer plant near the eastern city limits. The plant is again giving trouble, according to reports. Trustee W. R. Wharton advocated the installation of an incinerator to solve the problem. No action was taken by the trustees, the matter being left for the new city engineer, Merwin Ross, to solve.

Discussion was held by the trustees over traffic and fire problems but no action was taken.

NEW BILLBOARD ORDINANCE IS PASSED AT H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 18.—Meaning billboards and signs, must be limited to an area of nine square feet in this city, according to an ordinance read for the first time last night. The ordinance is the fourth to be taken up by the new trustees since taking office about a month ago. Three ordinances have been passed and the city attorney was instructed to take steps to revise two more city ordinances last night.

The ordinance regulating outdoor advertising structures divides the town into four districts, provides for fireproof signs of metal construction in the main section of the city and provides that no sign be placed within 50 feet of any residence. A license fee of $35 a year is set in the ordinance for any person or firm engaging in the outdoor advertising business.

City trustees also took under consideration a plan proposed by Arof Akof for disposing of trash in the city. The trash is now collected by city employees. Akof declared that he could save the city $1000 a year. He was asked to submit his proposal at the next meeting of the city trustees, May 7.

Salary of a life guard and expenses for cleaning trash off the beach were ordered transferred from the music and promotion fund of the city to the general fund.

City Attorney A. J. Thiedick reported on a claim entered some time ago by Mrs. Gertrude Ward, for damages she alleged were done to her home while street work was in progress in front of her home. Her claim amounted to $300. According to Thiedick, he could find very little wrong with the exception of broken curbs and declared that Mrs. Ward had no basis for her claim. Trustees ordered City Street Superintendent C. J. Yost to investigate and repair any broken curbs or sidewalks near Mrs. Ward's home.

The city attorney was instructed to investigate present city ordinance regarding camping on the beach and also the building ordinance. It is expected that new ordinances covering these two subjects will be brought up at the next meeting of the board. An ordinance regarding the cleaning of weeds from vacant lots in the city may also be revised by the trustees.

Considerable discussion was also held over the condition of the city sewer plant near the eastern city limits. The plant is again giving trouble, according to reports. Trustee W. R. Wharton advocated the installation of an incinerator to solve the problem. No action was taken by the trustees, the matter being left for the new city engineer, Merwin Ross, to solve.

EVENING SALUTATION

O Earth! all bathed in blood and tears, yet never Hast thou ceased putting forth thy fruits and flowers.

—Madame De Stael.

BY BONDS OR SPECIAL TAX?

The disposition of sewage by turning it into the ocean is not an experimental method; it is a tried, scientific way, approved by the State Board of Health and by sanitation engineers everywhere.

The septic tank method is also approved. Interior cities have no choice, as a rule. Where there is no great body of water near, sewage must be cared for by the septic plant. But, as Santa Ana and the other cities are near the ocean, they, in acting jointly for the selection of a system, had the opportunity to dispose of sewage by an outfall into the ocean, after the sewage had been put through a settlement tank. Engineers said this way would be far more economical than if septic tanks were used. The ocean outfall would be less and its maintenance less than were septic tanks used. Naturally, and wisely, the more economical method was selected.

The situation before Santa Ana so far as the outfall sewer bonds are concerned is plain. The die was cast three years ago in favor of the present method of disposal. We believe the decision was a wise one, and, we are sure, that no serious objection, if any at all, was raised at that time to the project as outlined by the engineers. We are definitely and, we believe, wisely committed to the method of disposal now in use. There remains just this situation: The State Board of Health has ordered the cities concerned in the joint outfall to extend the outfall further into the ocean. The order is mandatory. WE MUST DO IT. There is just one question before us, and that question concerns the method of payment. Shall we raise the money by a bond issue or by a direct tax? If by a bond issue, those who are residents of this city ten or more years hereafter and who will be living here when the outfall will still be in use will be helping to pay for it. If by a direct tax, those of us who pay taxes next year will have to pay the entire bill.

"FITTER FAMILIES"

Dr. Florence Sherbon of the University of Kansas doesn't see why the horses, cows and pigs should have all the pedigrees. So several years ago she inaugurated at the state fair in Topeka a "Fitter Families" contest, giving certificates to families found, on examination by experts, sound in body and mind.

So far 523 persons, comprising 126 families, have been examined at the Kansas fair and pronounced as fit as the blue-ribbon cattle. Six other states and the National Eugenics Society have adopted the idea, and the number of certified men and women seems destined to grow rapidly.

Why not? There has been too much talk about "blue blood" and not enough about red blood, too much emphasis on family tradition and not enough on present soundness and vigor and the means of promoting them.

This is a practical kind of eugenics, setting up a new and worthy source of family pride to add to traditional values, and promoting a wholesome interest in good physical heredity. Man is body as well as soul, and a good physique may be more essential to personal and social effectiveness than a gallery of ancestral portraits.

GO-GETTING IN ASIA

America really hasn't a monopoly on democracy and individual enterprise. Europe has its champion go-getters, as Mussolini has demonstrated. Even Asia now distinguishes herself in this regard.

Mustapha Kemal, president and creator of the Turkish republic, was the first notable example. Starting from nothing, he made himself master of Turkey and has successfully held his own diplomatically against all Christendom, by his brains, energy and originality.

Reza Khan of Persia is a still more surprising personality. This erstwhile "stable boy" and private soldier has made himself as supreme in his ancient land as Kemal has in Turkey. Less admirable in some ways than Kemal, he has made himself Shah instead of establishing constitutional rule. But in the main, he seems to serve the same purpose as Kemal.

He sweeps out inefficiency and decadence. He stands for modern energy and progress, of a sort commonly supposed to be distinctly western. He gets up at 5 a. m. and puts in a full day, working as hard as any American captain of industry. Asia may yet show us a few things.

MORE LIBERAL Y. W.

The Young Women's Christian association is now opened to women of all creeds. The pledge requiring applicants for membership to signify their acceptance of "Jesus Christ as my Savior and Lord" is abolished. Jews, Unitarians and others not eligible before need only express their desire to enter the "Christian fellowship" of the association.

This is another example of expanding religious tolerance, which would have been possible a decade or two ago. Orthodox theology is regarded as less important; more stress is put on the spirit of life and service than on definite articles of belief.

The Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. have always been characterized by ideals of social service and sound morality rather than religious propaganda. With more liberal membership requirements, such organizations should find a wider field of usefulness without sacrificing their main purpose, which is applied Christianity.

BABY AUTOS COMING

There is much talk now about small automobiles, of a type familiar in Europe but unknown in this country. Europe has run to small, light cars of low power, because of the high cost of gasoline over there. Americans have preferred large cars in the past, apparently with little regard to the cost, but seem to be getting over that. Now they talk about more mileage per gallon, and a car to run errands and get around easily in city traffic.

There may be a big demand, therefore, for the cars that several American manufacturers are preparing to turn out, with about 90-horsepower and only 10 or 12 horsepower, giving 30 to 40 miles to a gallon of fuel. There will be less disposition to condemn such vehicles as "road lice" if they are well built and fully equipped, which is said to be the present intention. They should be especially handy for use as auxiliary cars, keeping the larger automobiles for heavier hauling and longer trips.

Need Better Accounting

Fresno Republican

Comparison of costs of government between various states are very difficult and rarely conclusive because of the differences in system among the states. The farther west the more the counties assume local obligations and charge back the expenses. In some states education is entirely laid on the school districts, in others it is distributed among districts, county and state. In the reports of Fresno county, for instance, much money that goes through the books is district money and state money. It all appears as a part of the cost of county administration. Also in California and other states there are heavy paternal costs charged on the public that would not appear on county reports in New York. Our government does more for us and costs us more. Our fine educational system costs us money.

Roughly speaking, the totals of money going through the books in Fresno county is $70 per person. But the costs that would be "purely county," including county roads, is about $25 a person.

This leads to a repetition of our criticism of the sort of reports made too frequently in this and other counties.

This is that the reports of supervisors and other public officers are so arranged as to show the faithfulness of the trusteeship discharged, but not to inform the public of the amount of money spent.

For instance, when the report shows that the treasury has taken in so much money and has spent so much money, it sounds as though the county had cost its tax payers so much. The fact is that much of this money is trustee money, put through the books once or twice without coming out of the county rate payers' pockets at all.

The taxes are heavy enough, in all conscience. They should not be made to appear any heavier than they are.

There should be set up an illuminating public accounting system that would show, better than anything does now, what our county government does cost, and why.

Woe to North Pole Claim Jumper

San Francisco Chronicle

It is hard to take seriously the profound interest that some writers are taking in the legal claims of the United States to the North Pole. Stirred by Commander Byrd's exploit, some "experts" have taken the trouble to explore international law on the subject. They now edify us with legal arguments to prove that Peary having been there on foot and Byrd having thrown overboard an American flag, the case is clinched and the title is without a cloud upon it.

Admitting this conclusion, what are we going to do about it? There is no acreage suitable for subdivision into choice villa sites. There are no creeks for congress to widen and deepen into roaring rivers, no sites on which to build postoffices, no bootleggers to pursue or patronize, no stills to raid, no populations to tax. The explorers did not expect to find these things, and were not disappointed when they found that the North pole is nothing but hunk of ice.

We are proud that Americans are first in the field of this scientific achievement, but we are not clear what advantage we will gain by claiming legal ownership, or why even the most chauvinistic of nations should try to jump our claim.

Still, the point has been raised in all seriousness and it must be admitted that the world has had a grand deal of trouble over issues that seem no more important. We should immediately arrange international agreements so that if there ever is a fight about it, the war will be held at the North pole.

Teacher's Tenure Law

Santa Barbara News

In the opinion of a district attorney of the San Joaquin valley, the so-called Teacher's tenure law is unconstitutional. He bases his view on the fact that the law is not uniform in operation as it applies to some schools and not to others.

This law has been attached in other instances and at least one case from a northern county is on its tedious way through courts. It is possible that in another year or two some final decision will be secured which will either overturn the law or establish it as constitutional and beyond the reach of legal attack.

Among thousands of school teachers in California this law, quite naturally, is regarded as a most excellent piece of legislation. It protects teachers in their positions after they have been in service for two years and at the same time leaves them free to seek employment elsewhere if they desire.

It is claimed that it has proved an important factor in checking the reign of politics in the public schools of some cities.

On the other hand, this system is open to serious objections in that it tends to stabilize the teaching force of cities at the level where it stood at the time the law became effective and thus prevent development except through slow changes.

ADVICE ON CAMPING OUT

Forget your scramble for the world's wealth. You will carry none of it with you on the last trip you will take. Your business will not suffer. If you take a vacation you will be far better off and both you and your business will gain in the end provided your play time is used for the restoration of health and strength.

If you are camping out, pitch your tent at the top of a low ridge or on the summit of a knoll, with gently sloping sides. If possible, you should select a place where the soil is mixed sand and gravel.

A sandy, gravelly soil assures adequate drainage. Trees are highly desirable about camps but all underbrush should be cleared away because it is frequently a shelter for mosquitoes.

Canvas tents are the best for a camping party. You should carry sufficient tentage to provide 20 square feet of floor space for each person. Ditch all the way around the tent to drain off any water which might get under the flaps or flooring. Wooden flooring raised a few inches above the earth is a great advantage.

The farther your camp is removed from human dwellings, stables and hog pens the freer it will be from flies. High ground, well drained, with no standing water anywhere near will be found to be fairly free from mosquitoes.

A pure water supply is absolutely essential. Unless you know positively that the water is pure boil it.

The Hop Pipe of Peace

Bulwark of Our Republic

Better America Federation

The Constitution's foundation is so broad as to permit all constructive beliefs to obtain lawful recognition. It raised political principles to a higher standard. It has exerted a greater influence toward their application and adaptability than has any other civic document.

Our Constitution has proven effective because it is permeated with the highest concepts of its framers. It avoided friction by weaving into it the soundest principles of right conduct as the basis requirement of constituted authority. In this lies its greatest strength and accounts for the progress of the United States under it.

Had our National Congress listened to the thousands of proposals and our people been willing, the Constitution today would have been a "crazy-patch," trying to be a panacea for every human ill. That wise counsel has prevailed and the Constitution applied through judicial interpretation has protected the individual, the State and Nation from confusion and conflict.

It is entirely correct to declare that, governmentally, the Constitution's creation was the greatest event in the human history of the world. These reasons make incomprehensible the slurring and pitiable attacks at present being made against it. A knowledge of our institutions would prove the most effective antidote to the demoralizing influences now in circulation against our Government.

Patriotic citizenship is challenged today as never before and it behooves all to so acquaint themselves with what we are and why, that we may intelligently meet the forces which would disrupt and overthrow the Government.

Worth While Verse

LIFE IS STRUGGLE

To wear out heart, and nerves, and brain,
And give oneself a world of pain;
Be eager, angry, fierce and hot,
Imperious, supple; God knows what,
For what's all one to have or not;
O false, unwise, absurd and vain!
For 'tis not joy, it is not gain,
It is in itself a bliss,
Only it is precisely this
That keeps us all alive.

To say we truly feel the pain,
And quite are sinking with the strain;
Entirely, simply, undecieved,
Believe, and say we ne'er believed
The object, e'en we it achieved
A thing we e'er had cared to keep;
With heart and soul to hold it cheap,
And then to go and try it again;
O false, unwise, absurd and vain!
O 'tis not joy, and 'tis not bliss,
Only it is precisely this
That keeps us still alive.

—Arthur Hugh Clough.

Time To Smile

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

It was a dark night at Camp Grant. Footsteps of a horse were heard approaching through the gloom.

"Halt! Who goes there?" barked the rookie.

"Regimental commander,"

The colonel dismounted and came over to the rookie, who presented arms with a snap.

"Proceed, colonel," he said.

As he laboriously got back on his horse the colonel asked: "By the way, who posted you there?"

"Oh, nobody," replied the sentry, "I'm just practicing."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

THE DIPLOMAT

"Did you make these biscuits, my dear?"

"Yes, darling."

"Well, I would prefer that you wouldn't make any more."

"Why not, dear?"

"Because, angel, you're too light for such heavy work."—Masonic Craftsman.

HIS TIME COMING

"Well, sir," asked the musician, "what do you think of my compositions?"

"In all probability," replied the critic, "they will be played long after Beethoven and Wagner are forgotten."

"Really?"

"Yes, but not before."—Christian Science Monitor.

The high schools of Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton and Huntington Beach will take part in a forensic contest soon to be held in Anaheim.

It was announced that the Misses Florence McAferly, Grace Johnson, Winifred Michelson, Martha Schildmeyer and Irene Miller would graduate from the Santa Ana hospital training school May 27.

Loneliest Place in World

"La Marinera," said to be the last French convict ship, sailed out of La Rochelle recently with 340 convicts destined for incarceration on Devil's Island, French Guiana.

Recently also Mexico dispatched a noted criminal to its lonely convict island, Marla Madre.

Russia has started a service between Kam and Solovetski island in the White sea to transport prisoners. The famous monastery on the island has been converted into a prison.

These three incidents show that the practice of maintaining convict colonies in the world's loneliest places has not entirely been given up, says a bulletin of the National Geographic society from its headquarters at Washington, D. C.

Famous Penal Colonies. Devil's Island, Marla Madre and Solovetski island are in very mixed company historically. Virginia, St. Helena, Funchal, Monte Christo, Siberia, the Seychelles, Australia, New Caledonia, Andaman islands, Tasmania and Sakhalin have all been penal colonies for more or less distinguished prisoners.

St. Helena, Funchal and the Seychelles are royal prison islands. The ones in their time served for common criminals or unlucky politicians. When Elba failed to hold Napoleon he was placed on St. Helena, well toward the middle of the south Atlantic, out of harm and out of the shipping lanes. That was in 1815.

Funchal in the Azores and the Seychelles on the west coast of Africa north of Madagascar are more recent prison stations. In Africa the British occasionally find it expedient to absent certain native rulers from their subjects. So when Premph, king of the Ashanti on the Gold Coast spilled too much blood, they sent him to sojourn in the soothing climate of the Seychelles. Premph, after 20 years, returned to his people, so apparently he did not like the asylum.

But the English did, so they sent Mwanga, deposed ruler of Uganda, to join him and then Kabarega of Unyoro, Sayid Khaldi of Zanzibar and Saad Zaghlul of Egypt. The Seychelles detention was not nearly so effective in the case of Zakghul, who is now the leader of a popular party in Egypt. To Funchal was sent the deposed emperor of Austria-Hungary immediately following the end of the World war. He died in exile. His wife and children are now in Spain.

Tourists Visit Chateau D'Iff. Chateau d'Iff, the castle in which the hero of Dumas' novel, "The Count of Monte Cristo" was confined for 14 years, now receives tourists from Marseilles. Curiously, Monte Cristo, where Morel went after his escape, was also a penal colony island for many years. Monte Cristo is owned by Italy. It lies off the coast from Leghorn and about 25 miles north of Elba.

Tsarist Russia, for a time, sent 18,000 prisoners to Siberia annually. Much of the famous Trans-Siberian railway was built with prison labor. The chief horror of Siberian exile was the knout. By it, or by terror of it, guards kept prisoners docile. The handle of the knout is a heavy wood stick, 18 inches long. One end of it is a thong of rawhide. About eight feet from the handle the thong is split in three parts. These streamers are three feet long. The ends are tied into hard knots, although lead or iron hooks sometimes were used.

Preparatory to administering the knout, the victim was tied face downward on a rough table. Close to the knout-wielder a clerk with a book in which he checked the number of strokes as that worthy swung them and called them. For the first 25 strokes the skin was marked white by the lash as if a chalk mark were drawn on the flesh. After that the thongs began to cut through. When a knout sentence called for 100 strokes the last one was usually omitted as a "token of imperial magnanimity."

South Sea Bubbles

New York Times

The South Seas continue to live at the close of the World War, when weariness caused men to turn wistfully toward some peaceful Utopia.

Everybody read eagerly the colorful books of Frederick O'Brien, who had just arrived with thrilling tales of balmey isles, and Melville's works were lifted out of obscurity on the wave of interest. Some readers packed up and sailed for Tahiti, only to come back disappointed.

"The world it was the same world yet" they might have commented in the words of the Shropshire lad. For in the South Sea islands there are certainties and ants as well as sunny beaches, rainy seasons and dreadful monotony to balance against an easy-going life.

It's Your Chamber of Commerce

By George A. Raymer, Secretary of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce

Prosperity Series No. 9

STOCK EXCUSES

"Chamber of Commerce Hasn't Done Anything" We are not selling the Chamber of Commerce on past performance, but on what WE WILL ACCOMPLISH if we have the members and the MONEY.

"The Directors Run the Place; the Members have No Chance."

If you want to help in the Chamber's activities, it will take you just ONE MINUTE to get on the COMMUNITY PROFIT-SHARING PAYROLL. The Chamber hires a secretary and office assistants, the rest of the work MUST BE DONE by the citizens on a volunteer basis. Don't stay outside and KNOCK; come in and WORK.

"Santa Ana is Large Enough Now to Suit Me." Santa Ana must either GROW or it will DIE of stagnation. Take your choice.

"When They do Something I'll Come In." Who are they? The Chamber of Commerce belongs to Santa Ana people. No man has a right to shift his community responsibility to anyone else.

"I Have Served My Time." In a well regulated Chamber of Commerce no citizen ever comes to a place where he has served his time. He becomes more useful as time goes on.

"What Do I Get Out of It?" You get a bigger and better city in which to live and do business. You are taking your living out. The important question is: WHAT ARE YOU PUTTING INTO IT?

"The Chamber of Commerce Is Not Spending Any Money to Bring the Tourist to Santa Ana." True! Other cities in the southland are proving that money spent for publicity pays; but, God bless you, we haven't a cent to spend. The Chamber of Commerce may be a Christmas tree, but Santa surely passes us up this year.

"One Man Wants Factories; Another Wants Parks; Still Another Objects to Both." To one man the city is large enough; the next man wants to see the population increase; one man doesn't like this; and the next doesn't like that. The program of the Chamber has been formulated by the directors and it is the job of the membership to see that we have the money to put over the program.
